Message from the Chairman

3M India has completed 15 years of operations. During this time, our Company has evolved into a truly diversified entity, continuously providing it's customers with products and solutions that enable them to succeed in their business and daily life.

I am encouraged by our financial results this year. Post the economic slowdown in the new millennium, 2003 was a year to buckle down, reorient our thinking to the new market dynamics, realign our internal processes and to effect strategic changes vis-a-vis the market place. We have been successful in doing so and this is reflected in the steady growth of our business.

This performance was possible because of our continued focus on implementing our five business initiatives across the Company, experienced management and a team of competent and motivated employees.

Our customers will continue to be our raison d'etre and we are committed to providing them with top of line, innovative and reliable product solutions.

My compliments to the management and employees of 3M India for their contribution and my wishes for an outstanding performance in 2004.

Yashovardhan Birla

Message from the Managing Director

The encouraging business and economic climate that we saw in the latter half of 2003 certainly set the stage for improved performance for 3M India. Our top line growth of 17%, excluding exports, is very much ahead of industry norms. This growth is despite the divestment of our Electro & Telecom business in September 2003. But the more significant achievement has been our earnings growth of 42%, testimony that we are on the right track with the implementation of our five business initiatives Six Sigma, Acceleration, eProductivity, Sourcing and Indirect Costs.

Contributing significantly to our results were the Industrial, Automotive and Specialty Materials businesses. Our strength continues to be our ability to provide customers with innovative product solutions that meet most exacting requirements. To that end, creating and sustaining customer loyalty has contributed significantly to our results.

Our steadfast implementation of the Six Sigma process and use of its tools in our day to day work have reaped rich dividends. Today, most of our employees are Six Sigma trained and we currently have Black Belt and Green Belt projects underway, aimed at growth, reduced costs or effective use of working capital. Six Sigma will continue to be major focus in 2004, with major emphasis on implementing projects enhancing top line growth.

In 2004, we intend to increase our capital investments in Automotive, Industrial & Specialty Materials businesses with full thrust on localizing products. Introduction of new, patented products in the Health Care market will also enhance our overall performance.

Our focus as always in our customer and our intention to deliver long-term profitable growth.

My compliments to each and every member of 3M team, our business partners and associates for playing a role in 2003's solid contribution. The dedication, focus and determination of this team is outstanding, and will undoubtedly be a part of our success in 2004.

Management Discussion and Analysis

The Company has a wide spectrum of products to cater to the requirements of Industrial, Automotive, Healthcare, Consumer & Office Markets, etc., to name a few.

a) Industry structure and Developments

The Company sales excluding exports grew by 17 % over last year especially Industrial, Automotive & Specialty Material Segments.

The Company continues to source most of its requirement of materials both for manufacturing & trading from its 3M Affiliates around the globe as the products are technologically advanced.

Major portion of the revenue comes from traded goods in which 3M has technological advantage worldwide. Few of our power brands are Scotchkote, Scotchtint, Micropore, Thinsulate, Post-it®, Filtrete™, Scotch®.

Due to economical cost of production, Company is able to develop and export certain type of medical dressings, scouring pads, computer filters & products from Occupational Health & Environment Safety division to countries in Asian region. However, due to crop failure in the year 2002, Company's export of Niger seeds were badly hit which resulted in steep fall in export turnover.

b) Opportunities and Threats

The Country's economy is expected to grow by 7 to 8% in the coming years and India is likely to emerge as key player in the international arena.

3M intends to expand its operation in Automotive, Industrial & Specialty Material markets with full thrust on localising products. Introduction of new patented products in Health Care Segments and anticipated all-round growth in the economy would enable the Company to offer qualitative products of international standards with a superior logistic capabilities.

One of the success factors of high growth of profit after tax is various initiatives like Process Improvement, Acceleration, e Productivity, sourcing and indirect cost reduction and the Company would like to continue its focus in these initiatives to achieve maximum benefit in the coming years without compromising on quality and standards.

The markets for 3M India is competitive and rapidly changing, given its wide variety of segments being covered. Our competitors in this market include Carborundum Universal, Grindwell Norton in Abrasive segments, Johnson & Johnson in Health Care segments, Avery Dennison, medium and small players in Transportation, Graphic and safety segments, Godrej, Hitachi and Sony in Office segments. These competitors are located internationally as well as in India. We expect that competition will increase and potentially include companies from other countries situated in Asia Pacific regions that have lower costs than those currently made available in India.

As our thrust and strength lies on on-time delivery & Innovations to meet customer's expectations, we strongly believe in sustaining the challenge posed by the competitors and expect a continuous steady growth.

We also believe that our ability to compete will depend on a number of factors beyond our control which include

- Currency exchange fluctuations
- The price at which our competitors offer their products and services and
- To the extent to which our competitors respond to the customer's needs

We strongly believe to compete favorably with respect to each of these factors through quality leadership, our expertise in providing innovative solutions and our ability to create and retain customer loyalty.
