MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Pharmaceutical Industry – Global & Indian

The Indian Pharmaceutical industry ended the year 2004 with estimated sales of over Rs. 206 billion, growth of 6.5% over the previous year. After a growth of just 5% in 2003, the Industry seems to be on a recovery path and recorded good growth. However, this trend has been impacted in the first quarter of 2005 primarily due to reduced buying by the trade on account of proposed introduction of Value Added Tax (VAT) from April, 2005.

For Indian bulk drug manufacturers, the high impact opportunities present themselves in two forms – export of off-patent bulk drugs to regulated market of US and Europe, and contract manufacturing of patent-protected bulk drugs for patent/license holders. India offers the advantage of its low production cost, quality production, and abundant skills in chemistry. More and more Indian pharmaceutical companies are going for the US FDA compliant plants and this has resulted in increased volume, margins, and profits.

The US is the biggest market for Indian pharmaceutical exports followed by Germany, Russia, UK, and China. India's skills in chemistry and cost competitiveness along with quality facilitate exports. Over the last 2-3 years, India has emerged as a country with maximum number of US FDA approved plants outside the US.

India has emerged as a preferred source for quality medicines at affordable prices. In addition to opportunities in the domestic market, there are various opportunities for exporting to regulated and unregulated markets.

India offers a competitive advantage in outsourcing due to its abundance of scientific and technical manpower, large and diverse patient pool for conducting clinical trials and technical capability of producing active pharmaceutical ingredients as well as finished dosage forms. All these services will be highly cost competitive and they offer several opportunities to small as well as mid-sized pharmaceutical companies.

Introduction of product patents from 2005 presents an opportunity for the growth of the pharmaceuticals industry, depending on the implementation and enforcement of the product patent regime. It is hoped that this will facilitate speedier introduction of new research products, attracts investment in research and lead to development of the industry and market. This coupled with India's growing population and increasing health awareness should further open up the avenues for growth of industry.

The proposed New Drugs Policy and Price Control Order promised reduced span of price control and an opportunity for the industry to invest and grow the market. The implementation of this new Policy has been pending for the past over two years. The absence of a clear objective and transparent policy on drug price control is impacting the overall industry direction.

Business Strategy -

In order to translate the above into reality for the Company, we plan to harness our existing strengths and implement the following strategy:

- In addition to the existing established molecules, Aarti Drugs Limited (ADL) is now focusing on selected value-added molecules from therapeutic segments like cardio-vascular, anti-diabetics, anti-fungal, antibiotics, anti-allergic, anti- arthritis, etc. as the choice of molecules and composition of product portfolio would be critical to the future growth of the company.
- Concentration on niche markets like China along with increased presence in the regulated markets will continue to remain an area of priority. It has already filed for import drug permit for Tinidazole and Nimesulide with China FDA so that ADL will be freely allowed to sell the product in the Chinese market.
- The Company has already started commercial production at its newly setup Intermediate Plant at Tarapur. Production at the USFDA Compliant plant is expected to start in July, 2005. The Company proposes to file at least 6 to 8 DMF during current year.
- Acquisitions of synergic projects or mergers would remain another focus area.
