Animation - Opportunities and threats

Prospects in the Animation Industry

Animation is not just about cartoon; it is just one genre of animation. Animation has several applications like educational CDs, online education, video games, Internet, mobile phones, commercials and industry-specific applications in architecture, medical, law and insurance. Besides, newer applications for animation are already in progress. In a classical sense, animation is converting drawing skills to a moving format it could be either on paper (2D) or on the computer (3D). By 2008, the global animation market is expected to grow at the rate of 8%, while the Indian market is expected to have a 2.5% growth rate, according to a study carried out by the NASSCOM.

Segment wise analysis of the Industry

The high cost of production is one of the key reasons why studios are willing to outsource animation work to India. Overseas markets, already impressed by the country's proven success in the IT industry are increasingly looking at India to cut costs, as studios here offer services at lower rates due to availability of skilled yet cheaper manpower. India also has a strong advantage in getting outsourced work from the West because of the fast growing consumer class and lack of language barrier.

Industry Size

(Source: FICCI Report - 2006)

As per Nasscom estimates, the Indian entertainment industry contributes around 68 percent of the revenues of the Indian animation industry. This translates into revenues of approximately INR 8.8 million that the Indian animation industry earns from the Indian entertainment industry. Globally, the contribution of the entertainment industry towards animation is pegged at around 72 percent. Even if the existing share of 68 percent is maintained by the Indian Entertainment Industry in the growing animation market, the contribution by the entertainment segment has the potential to grow the Indian animation industry by an estimated 35 percent to reach up to INR 28.8 billion by 2009.

Business overview of the Company

Color Chips (India) Limited is into 2D and 3D Animation and syndication of comics & contents. In a short span, the company emerged as a leading player in animation industry in India. Color chips has produced various short animation films and worked with international animation production houses like BKN International, Germany, Benj Productions, France etc.

Risks and Concerns:

Computer animation Industry in India is in its Nascent Stage:

Animation is a new industry to the Indian Business Environment. Hence, the functioning of the Industry, its risks, the payoffs and the time taken to achieve the payoffs, are not very well understood. The company has been able to develop a strong track record of successful deliveries and has established a strong foundation for a robust growth in the years to come.

Manpower risks:

Over the years, one distinguishing factor about Color Chips has been the quality of the manpower and low attrition rate, which is much below the industry levels. Particularly, in the 2D animation business, the animators have seen Color Chips as a destination of choice due to training and high quality work opportunities, and a culture best suited for creative talents. This franchise is of utmost importance to this risk reduces progressively with the increase in trained manpower base but nevertheless is an inherent part of the business and needs to be managed actively at all times. Quality computer animation talent is in short supply and also takes time to develop and hence the other major challenges is to successfully increase the talented manpower base of the company.

Competition

The main Competitors for the Company includes all domestic animation companies like Heart Animation, Hyderabad; Data Quest, Hyderabad; Esco Toonz Limited, New Delhi; UTV Toons, Mumbai; Penta Media Graphics, Chennai; Crest Communications Ltd. etc. The company also faces stiff competition from Far East companies located in countries like China, Japan, Philippines, Taiwan etc. The other major challenge faced by the company being changing technologies, and upgrading the technologies is a task in itself. Our strength vis-à-vis our competitors are our trained staff, content library and creative team. ColorChips holds a strong creative team of professionals and suitable infrastructure to cater to requirements of print media, visual media & corporate communications. The above strengths give our company a wider market and more visibility.

Export Possibilities

The Company has already co-produced projects along with producers in Europe. With its ability to produce high quality animation shows the company expects to have good export possibilities of its products and services. Further as India has rich pool of historical, mythological and folklore which are till date not exposed in the international animation market the company expects that the content produced by it will have good export potential.
