Macro-Economic and Industry Development

The Indian Economy registered another year of impressive growth during 2005-2006, with GDP growth climbing to 8.4% from 7.5% in 2004-2005, owing largely to sustained growth in the industry and services sectors and a growing world economy, despite record high crude oil prices. Another positive feature was that the growth was accompanied by continued maintenance of relative price stability. Agricultural growth has been estimated at 3.9%, reviving from a low of 0.7% in 2004-2005, thanks to a near normal monsoon. Industrial output improved during 2005-2006 mainly due to acceleration of growth in the manufacturing sector, which has been estimated at 9%. Sustained expansion in domestic as well as export demand, increased capacity utilization and improved confidence were some of the key factors for the improvement in the manufacturing sector. The services sector continued to perform impressively, clocking a growth of 10.1%.

Industry Structure and Developments

The Indian Construction Industry is an integral part of Indian Economy and an important part of investment into development of the Indian Economy takes place through the construction industry. The construction industry is expected to grow with further economic development, industrialization, urbanization and improvements in the standard of living. A report by the Confederation of International Contractors' Association and the United Nations Environment Programme in 2002 estimated the annual output for the construction sector worldwide at US$ 3,400 billion. Currently India ranks 12th and accounts for 1.75% of world construction sector output.
