MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

1. Industry Structure, Developments, Opportunities and threats.

Ever since the opening-up of Infrastructure sector and large scale Residential Complexes viz. Integrated Townships across the Country by the Govt. of India to the global players, host of new global property developers have entered India during the past one year for building Townships directly or through joint ventures focussed on property development. According to the international consultants as well as the National experts on the Real Estate Industry, India offers big opportunity as Real Estate yields are on upside.

The Real Estate Market in India predominantly continues to remain unorganised fairly fragmented, mostly characterized by small players with a local presence. The Company has already positioned itself at quite a number of locations at emerging Tier-II & Tier-III Townships spread over important district centres in various states and has acquired sizeable land banks for Development. The Real Estate Sector offers promising future for all its stakeholders and the company's new projects are expected to increase its Turnover and Profitability manifolds in future years. The Company will continue to strive for more and more remunerative projects.

2. Segment-wise analysis

Revenue of the Company is generated from two segments namely Development of Real Estate and Restaurants (Hospitality)

The hospitality division of the Company has been performing well with turnover of Rs. 5.24 crores with sizeable profits of Rs. 1.35 crores recorded in the Financial Year 2006-2007. The performance is expected to be better in the current financial year.

Capital Cars Pvt. Ltd., a joint venture company for sale / services of Honda Cars has contributed turnover of Rs. 145.80 crores and Net Profit of Rs. 3.00 crores to the Consolidated Accounts of the Company for the fiscal year 2006-2007. The major focus of the business of the Company will be 'Real Estate Development' only.

3. Outlook

The Government of India has deregulated and liberalised the Real Estate Sector after liberalization of a number of other sectors of the economy. Since then, it has been attracting foreign funds and/or the Real Estate overseas Investors as an attractive destination. The propellants for the real estate sector are:

- Growth of India's middle class creating demand for housing.
- Strong demographic impetus: India has the second largest population and work force in the world with a middle class of more than 300 million.
- Rising FDI levels have increased commercial space requirements by foreign firms.
- Expansion in organized retail sector.

Several factors including rapid population growth, rising incomes, emergence of nuclear families, tax incentives, availability of home loans at competitive rates are responsible for the growth demand for houses and hence extensive residential construction. There is currently a shortage of around 20 million units and the demand is expected to rise in the forthcoming years. The current scenario is very conducive for investment in the housing / real estate sector.

4. Risks and Concerns

The Indian Real Estate market is still in its infancy, largely unorganised and dominated by a large number of small players, with very few corporates or large players having national presence.

We do not apprehend any inherent risk in the Real Estate Industry in the long run except for certain primary concern that has afflicted the progress of Real Estate industry:-

- Restrictive legislation and any adverse changes, if any, in the Governmental Policies relating to Real Estate.
- Limited investment from organised sector has also hindered the growth in the sector.
- The Construction industry is already subject to a number of taxes and is considered as one of the overburdened tax segment.

As seen in the recent past the Government Policies have been supportive except for a few continuing irritants like high incidence of stamp duty and the non-availability of low cost long-term funds, tenancy laws etc. for the Real Estate/Construction Sector.

However, the said risks can be averted if the Government directs its policies in Real Estate Sector towards regulatory framework instead of being restrictive in nature. This is imperative in the current scenario where to control uneven growth of un-organized new players in the sector has become need of the hour.
