MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Green Energy - International Scenario

After the Kyoto Protocol was adopted in 1997, several deliberations have taken place amongst different Nations to agree upon the implementation program for reduction of Green House Gases (GHG), by the specific Developed Countries. On this an International event, COP8 (Conference of Parties) was also held last year in New Delhi. However, due to various political reasons, firm decisions could not be taken in this conference. The required majority of nations are yet to ratify the Kyoto Protocol. Presently world is waiting and watching for the ratification of protocol by countries like Russia and Australia to bring it to the designated process of implementation.

Green Energy - Domestic Scenario

India as a Developing Country ratified the Kyoto Protocol, showing its commitment, even though it was not compulsory. We see a good future for Non-Conventional Energy Projects to get the support from Government of India, in terms of trading the mitigated Co2 from such projects in lieu of generating power from fossil fuels, under Clean Development Mechanism (CDM).

BF Utilities with its 18.33 MW wind power projects can avail such benefit, as per eligibility criteria of protocol. Formulation of requisite process of selling the projects eligibility, to avail such benefit is under finalisation. Considerable progress can be seen once the Government of India decides the process for "Host Country approval", as required by the CDM Board and buyers.

Amongst all the eligible projects for CDM, 'Wind Power Projects' is the most acceptable project for CDM benefit. Our projects have good potential of additional income, once the regulatory mechanism and process is in place at different levels of government with the buyers of different nations and of Developed Countries in Europe.

Power Tariff and Government Policy

Even with Maharashtra State Electricity Board's present lowest industrial tariff in India, there is already movement for increase of tariff through regulatory commission approval mechanism. Since the increase in tariff is bound to take place, the increased revenue stream will certainly add to the profitability of your company in future.

The Government of Maharashtra has discontinued the Wind Power Development Policy for new Wind Power Projects from April 2002. Since then, there has been no clear policy of Government for the wind power development. Therefore, your company has not ventured into fresh investments. The same may be contemplated in the coming years, depending upon Government policy on this matter.

The performance of our projects

We are proud to say that as a result of our continued efforts on R&D, the generation of our wind turbines have been good this year. The total generation during October - September 2002 has resulted in 25.5% PLF with 22.5 Lakhs units/ MW, one of the highest in Maharashtra. This is mainly due to selection of good technology machines, wind farm site, scientific selection of machine locations, continuous monitoring of the operations of the project, backed up by good maintenance practices and also effecting continuous improvements in the grid connectivity. The uptime this year was more than 99%.

This has also helped your company in availing the performance related benefits, adding to the generation revenue without any difficulties, unlike other Wind Power Producers in Maharashtra.

We hope that with similar commitment in all fronts, the same trend of performance will continue in future.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Statements in this management discussion and analysis describing the Company's objectives, projections, estimates and expectations may be 'forward looking statements' within the meaning of applicable laws and regulations. Actual results might differ substantially or materially from those expressed or implied. Important developments that could affect the Company's operations include a downtrend in the industry - global or domestic or both, significant changes in political and economic environment in India, tax laws, litigations, labour relations and interest costs.
