bhansali ENGINEERING polymers LIMITEDDIRECTORS' REPORT

Dear Members,

Your Directors take pleasure in presenting the Twenty Second Annual Report and the Audited Accounts for the year ended 31st March 2006.

CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING PERIOD :

The figures for the year ended on 31st March 2006 are not comparable with the figures of the previous period of nine months ended on 31st March 2005.

FINANCIAL RESULTS :

	Current Accounting Year ended 31.03.2006 (12 months) (Rs.in lacs)	Previous Accounting Period ended 31.03.2005 (9 months) (Rs.in lacs)
Sales	30655.49	17551.76
Profit before interest, tax and depreciation	3407.96	2218.66
Profit before tax	1546.71	1228.76
Profit after tax	946.51	967.23
Balance brought forward	1605.34	827.29
	2551.85	1794.52
Proposed dividend including tax thereon	189.18	189.18
Balance carried to Balance Sheet	2362.67	1605.34

DIVIDEND:

The Directors have pleasure in recommending for the consideration of the Members at the Annual General Meeting, payment of Dividend of Re.0.10 per share (10%) for the year ended 31st March, 2006 (previous period : Re.0.10). The total outgo including tax thereon will be Rs.189.18 lacs.

OPERATIONS:

- (a) The Company was able to optimally utilise its production facilities and achieved significant growth in production and sales. A record production at 34469 MT and turnover at Rs.30655.49 lacs were achieved during the year under review, reflecting an increase by 53% and 31% respectively on an annualized basis. It is noteworthy that during the year under review, your company earned Rs. 3407.96 lacs profit before interest, tax and depreciation (EBITD), an increase of 54%. It's net profit before tax at Rs.1546.71 lacs, cash profits before tax at Rs.2185.36 lacs against the net profit before tax at Rs.1228.76 lacs and cash profit before tax at Rs.1654.39 lacs in the previous period reflect an increase of 26% and 32% respectively. However, due to provision for taxation, net profit after tax at Rs. 946.51 lacs was marginally lower than previous period's net profit after tax at Rs.967.23 lacs.
- (b) Wild fluctuation in global monomer prices continued throughout the year, perhaps as a sequel to unabated turmoil in crude and petroleum prices. However, your company is learning fast to live with such uncertainties hence could achieve some good results. Furthermore, your Company has revamped its process technology to achieve in post expansion phase cost and quality leadership and also successfully implemented ERP Programme, mySAP.

FUTURE PLAN:

The programme of expanding current capacity from 48 KTPA to 60 KTPA has been shelved owing to the reasons, enunciated hereinafter. The incremental step to achieve 25% higher production capacity is fraught with the risk of stopping the heart of the production facility, i.e. Bulk SAN plant, for 12 to 14 weeks to carry out modification, during which production of ABS will come to a grinding halt. Owing to near optimal utilization of production facility together with the absorption of the product at the market place, it is not becoming possible to create adequate inventory of Bulk SAN to cover production schedule of ABS uninterruptedly for 12/14 weeks. Moreover, upon further in-depth examination, it is not being found so attractive from cost reduction angle, as a step preceding the mega capacity expansion to 200 KTPA. Therefore, the company's strategy for capacity expansion is being re-engineered to implement mega expansion programme to 200 KTPA from the present level of 48 KTPA in single or two phases. The implementation strategy whether to reach 200 KTPA in single stage or implement in two stages will be finalised in the next few months because it involves intensive study presently being carried out with respect to utility engineering as your company is coming out with a novel scheme to implement co-generation power plant. Indian manufacturing scene, in general and no exception in particular to ABS business, is getting exposed to international competition in the domestic market. Therefore, the watch words are cost competitiveness globally and quality competence at par with the best in world. There is really no choice for your company than to think big and out of box to get going with it's mega expansion project in the manner that cost wise the company is slim enough to wrestle at the market place and remain financial-healthwise robust. The strategy, therefore, is right sizing of the capacity expansion and reducing the cost of the utility at minimal level, which would be achievable through co-generation facility your company is planning to build as an integral part of 200 KTPA expansion project. The cost of energy saved will reflect directly in bottom-line improvement. Your company's endeavour is to carry out the study intensively for achieving cost and quality leadership and equally extensively to arrive at a better understanding of the growth dynamics of Indian and transnational markets. On the one hand there is no alternative than to grow and on the other absorption, of higher volume turn out from the manufacturing outfit, by the market on value added basis poses formidable challenge. While determining the growth model your company is simultaneously formulating the financing strategy. It will be possible for your company to determine by end of the calendar year, financing programme befitting the expansion plan, blueprint whereof will be ready by September, 2006. No doubt there has been delay in working out and implementing the expansion plan but to find the right way in such densely and rapidly changing competitive environment takes some time.

SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION:

Your Company continues to accord high priority to the areas of Safety and Environment Protection. Compliance with safety norms and regular training programs for employees for various safety measures and to increase the safety standards and awareness are an integral part of the Company's operating system.

There were no deposits remaining unpaid/ unclaimed in terms of Section 58A of the Companies Act, 1956 read with the Companies (Acceptance of Deposit) Rules, 1975 at the end of the year.
