Awards & honours

With a belief that there is more to learn and achieve, Bharti Airtel endeavours to enhance its offerings to diverse pool of stakeholders; customers, employees, partners, community, investors and all. Awards and recognitions prove second to none, when it comes to motivate Bharti Airtel as an organisation.

Bharti Airtel received several awards and recognitions during the year. Some of them were:

- Rated as the 'Strongest Brand' in the Economic Times- Brand Finance 'Brand Power Rating'. Airtel was the only corporate brand to be awarded the AAA rating. It improved its rating from the previous AA+. Airtel was also rated as the 7th Most Valuable Brand in India with a brand value of USD 2.5 bn and Bharti Airtel was the only telecom player to feature amongst the top 10 most valuable brands
- Featured in Forbes Asia's "Fabulous 50" companies of Asia Pacific. The coveted list includes Asia Pacific's biggest listed companies with revenues or market capitalisation of at least USD 3 bn and picked by Forbes's editors on the basis of the best aggregate scores for long-term profitability, sales and earnings growth as well as projected earnings and stock-price gains
- Recognised as the 'Best Global Wholesale Carrier for 2009' at the Telecoms World Awards Middle East. Telecoms World is one of the flagship annual awards by Terrapin, one of the leading business media organisations for international telecom carriers and service providers
- Rated as India's 'Best Enterprise Connectivity Provider for 2009' at the Annual Users' Choice Awards instituted by PC Quest. This recognition came based on an IDC survey spread over top eight Indian cities across four zones
- Bharti Airtel's low cost computing device Airtel Net PC was recognised by Hindustan Times as one of the 'Top 9 Best Tech Products of 2009'
- Awarded the 'Most Preferred Cellular Service Provider Award' at the CNBC Awaaz Consumer Awards 2009
- Awarded the 'NDTV Profit Business Leadership Award 2009' in the telecom sector. Instituted to award organisational excellence, these awards promise to acknowledge the best, the brightest and the most dynamic of Indian organisations that have emerged leaders in their respective verticals
- Bagged top honours in the Voice & Data 100 survey, winning five of the Voice & Data Telecom Awards 2009. Bharti Airtel was named the 'Top Telecom Services Provider of the Year 2009'. Manoj Kohli, CEO & Joint Managing Director was named the 'Voice & Data Telecom Person of the Year 2009'. The awards also named Bharti Airtel as the 'Top VSAT Player 2009', 'Top NLD Player 2009' and 'Top Cellular Services Provider 2009'
- Bharti Airtel has recently won multiple recognitions in the field of Information Technology including Spamhaus Group 'Whitehat Network Star'; 'Security Strategist Award' and 'Intelligent Enterprise Award' at the Technology Senate 2009 and 'CIO Hall of Fame'
- Selected amongst the top 10 winners of the IDC Enterprise Innovation IT Awards 2009 across APAC region for the BSS Transformation Project which integrates 15 major applications and automates over 200 processes. These awards are presented to companies that demonstrate best practices, use IT in innovative ways to deliver competitive advantages to the organisation and enable growth
- Sunil Bharti Mittal, Chairman and Managing Director, was awarded the 'Global Economy Prize' by The Kiel Institute (Germany). The Global Economy Prize is awarded annually to an economist, a politician, and a businessperson who have made outstanding contribution in establishing a just and protective society based on individual initiative and responsibility
- Bharti Airtel was declared as the 'Service Provider of the Year' and 'Wireless Service Provider of the Year' by Frost & Sullivan Asia Pacific ICT Awards for its outstanding performance in the South Asian region

Dear Shareholders,

The past one year has been a truly momentous one for your Company. Not only have we excelled in reiterating our leadership in the domestic market but also embarked upon an exciting journey into the global telecom space. After fifteen years of successful operation and an impressive presence across the South Asian region, Bharti Airtel is truly on the cusp of a huge transformation, and ready to move to the next level.

As a conscious strategy, we have decided to focus on the emerging markets of Asia and Africa. We believe these markets will continue to be the growth engines of the telecom world.

With its billion plus population, vast natural resources and a tele-density of less than 30%, I firmly believe, Africa is going to be a market for the future and the next growth engine of the global economy. As a first step, we have successfully completed the acquisition of Zain Africa BV's operations in 15 countries having 42 mn customers for an enterprise value of USD 10.7 bn. In view of the tremendous future potential of these markets and Zain's leadership position therein, we consider this a game changing acquisition. This has catapulted us to the league of leading mobile operators in the world. With a total customer base of more than 185 mn, we are within striking distance to be among the top three operators in the world by 2015.

Chairman's message

Closer home, we have further strengthened our presence in the South Asian region. After our successful foray into Sri Lanka last year, we entered the Bangladesh market during the year by acquiring a majority stake in Warid Telecom. Brand Airtel has been well received in Sri Lanka, where the Company became the fastest growing telecom operator to cross one million customer mark within the first six months of operation. We will soon be launching the Airtel brand in Bangladesh and Africa.

In the Indian market, 2009-10 was an unusual year for telecom industry. Despite buoyant customer additions, revenues failed to show corresponding growth. Several new operators have entered the market. With 12-13 operators per circle, competition has reached a new peak. This is clearly an unviable situation and unlikely to continue for long and we expect some consolidation to happen in the industry. Despite the unfavourable competitive scenario, our consistent focus on rural penetration and affordability continued to deliver encouraging results in the domestic market.

With the completion of the auction for 3G and BWA spectrum, telecom services in India are ready to take a big leap forward. Amidst stiff competition, your Company has won 3G spectrum in 13 circles for a total consideration of Rs 12,295.46 cr. Though we would have loved to have a pan India 3G footprint, under the present circumstances we have done well to secure presence in key circles to drive our long-term growth plans. In the broadband wireless auction too we have secured a strategic presence across select circles to experiment with new technologies.

People and Partners will continue to play a central role in our future endeavours. Their role will be particularly critical in Africa. Key to our success there will lie in our ability to drive seamless knowledge and best practice sharing between Africa and South Asia. I am confident the Airtel Africa Leadership Team will be able to transport the successful business model to the new environment. We are also keen on replicating our phenomenally successful relationships with our partners in the new markets.

As a sincere corporate citizen, we strongly subscribe to the principle of inclusive growth and strive to impact lives around us in a positive way. Bharti Foundation continued to drive our social agenda of imparting quality education to underprivileged children in rural India purposefully through the year. Currently catering to approximately 30,000 students with 1,200 teachers in 236 schools across six states, we are on course to reach out to 100,000 students within a targeted timeframe. We have come across increasing participation from our employees in this mission by way of financial contributions and volunteering acts. I expect this spirit to bloom further during the coming years.

After extremely productive stints, Paul O'Sullivan, Quah Kung Yang, Bashir Currimjee and Mauro Sentinell have retired from the Bharti Airtel Board. I extend my sincere thanks to all of them for their valuable contributions during their tenure. I also welcome on board our new members Tan Yong Choo and Lim Chuan Poh. I am pleased to inform you that Manoj Kohli is now spearheading the International Business Group as CEO (International) & Joint Managing Director. Sanjay Kapoor has been elevated to the position of CEO (India & South Asia). I am confident that both Manoj and Sanjay will continue to drive our growth agenda with passion and commitment.

Your Company is taking a giant step forward to become a true global telecom powerhouse. It's a challenge of a different nature. But it is also an opportunity of a lifetime. We are eager to make the most of it. Like each one of you I too am looking forward to another exciting year ahead.
