Letter from the Chairman

Ashok M Advani, Chairman

Dear Shareholder,

2015-16 was a year of consolidation and transition for Blue Star. 'Consolidation' refers to the completion of a two-year exercise involving corporate restructuring and retrospective amalgamation of Blue Star Limited and Blue Star Infotech Limited (BSIL). Towards the end of the year, the Managing Director, Satish Jamdar, conveyed his desire to retire which created a mood of anticipation of the changes to come. The year concluded with the smooth transition of leadership from Satish Jamdar to Vir S Advani and B Thiagarajan.

Consolidated Financial Performance

Instead of the Standalone Accounts, it is more meaningful to look at the Consolidated Audited Accounts. Total Revenue grew by 19% to ₹3787 crores, while Profit After Tax doubled from ₹54 crores to ₹108 crores.

Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortisation (EBITDA) before exceptional items climbed to ₹233 crores. Return on Capital Employed at 24.8% and Return on Shareholders' Funds at 19.4% reached their highest levels in the past five years and are expected to keep improving. These encouraging financial results confirm the acceleration of business growth and profitability that began in the previous year.

Balance Sheet & Cash Flow

Complementing the healthy growth of revenue and profit is the state of the Balance Sheet which strengthened considerably mainly due to the merger of Blue Star and BSIL. The year-end borrowings of ₹363 crores shown in the Consolidated Accounts are really equivalent to a much lower net figure of ₹205 crores after 'adjusting' the current investment of ₹158 crores which was the net cash received by BSIL for the sale of its IT business.

The year-end debt equity ratio on a consolidated basis came down to 0.55, a more solid figure than the previous year's 0.87. This reduction occurred despite the interim dividend payout of ₹75 crores in March 2016. Had the dividend been declared and paid after the finalisation of accounts, as is usually done, borrowings would have been lower to that extent and debt/equity would have further reduced to a comfortable 0.44.

Thus, with modest leverage and substantial liquid assets in the Balance Sheet, Blue Star's financial position is now much stronger. Looking ahead, the Company's asset-light financial model aims to deliver cash profit high enough to pay good dividends, while retaining sufficient profit to fund future business growth without resorting to excessive debt. We have achieved this in the past and we will do it again.

Business Segments

A review of the segment-wise performance reveals that Electro-Mechanical Projects & Packaged Air Conditioning Systems revenues grew a moderate 12% to ₹1908 crores, while operating profit showed a healthier increase of 48% to ₹80 crores. The business continued to be handicapped by the long slump in industrial investment and commercial construction aggravated by the slow execution of ongoing projects.

Unitary Products (the erstwhile Cooling Products) with 42% of Corporate revenues i.e. ₹1576 crores produced 58% of the profits i.e. ₹166 crores. This segment has consistently been the major bread-winner for the Company. The current extension of the product range into non-cooling but related areas like water purifiers and air purifiers explains the new name for this business segment.

Professional Electronics & Industrial Systems had a disappointing year mainly due to recessionary conditions in the industrial sector. Though revenues grew 15%, the results declined from ₹31 crores to ₹27 crores.

Top Management Succession

The new financial year 2016-17 began with the passing of the Managing Director's baton from Satish Jamdar to Vir S Advani. Simultaneously, B Thiagarajan stepped into the position of Joint Managing Director. While the new team will manage the Company together, each of them will oversee different business areas and support functions. This organisational structure leverages individual strengths and provides clear accountability in a diversified company. Major corporate matters, of course, involve coordination and joint decisions where the shared corporate culture and values ensure a common bond with unified decision making. What gives me confidence in the partnership is that Vir and Thiagarajan have actually worked successfully in this manner as Executive Directors under Satish.

The new top management is off to a quick start. They had already begun the planning process earlier along with senior managers by addressing the fundamental question of what sort of Company they want Blue Star to be in 3 years when it celebrates its 75th Jubilee. This exercise resulted in the Strategic Plan FY17-FY19: Blue Star @ 75 and the Annual Business Plan for 2016-17 which have been approved by the Board.

I do not intend to steal Vir's thunder. Let him tell you himself. In a separate communication in this Annual Report, he explains the Corporate Vision and plans, and how the management intends to tackle the opportunities and challenges of the Company. Suffice it to say, they aim to transform Blue Star in a number of important ways over the next 3 years. Their views and aspirations are thought-provoking and aggressive, yet very conscious of the heightened risks and uncertainties in the world of today.

The Road Ahead

While 2016-17 has started well and business growth is expected to pick up, our plans are to some extent dependent on a healthy, growing economy. India is relatively well positioned compared to most other countries but there are a number of macro-economic factors that could be problematic. Inflation is rising again especially highly sensitive food prices. This is preventing the RBI from cutting interest rates. Investments in the infrastructure and industrial expansion remain subdued due to the dysfunctional banking system and over-leveraged corporate balance sheets. The Brexit development will create a major upheaval in international financial markets. India too will feel the effect to some extent but being relatively insulated, is better prepared to deal with the consequences.

I do not wish to list only problems and uncertainties because my personal view remains upbeat for good reason. There are many positive developments taking place across the broad economic, social, political and technological canvas of India. The Central and State governments are paying serious attention to the ease of doing business by simplifying bureaucratic procedures and relaxing controls which will benefit industrial and business activities while encouraging foreign investment. A new generation of youth is growing up with different hopes and aspirations. There may not be too many conventional blue collar jobs being created, but Indian entrepreneurial spirit is generating new self employment and contract work opportunities. In short, there is progress on many fronts and change is happening.

Blue Star too, has a younger group of engineers and managers who are empowered to take on the new challenges. The Company's financial position is reasonably strong. We are resilient enough to absorb the impact of Brexit and continue business as usual. We have the vision, the resources and the leadership. Our employees possess commitment, skill and above all, the willingness to work hard. I believe they will transform the Company into a dynamic new Blue Star.

Letter from the Managing Director

Dear Shareholder,

I thank you for the opportunity to lead the Company at such an exciting time in its growth journey. It is an honour and a privilege to serve as the Managing Director, and I look forward to a long and meaningful relationship with all our stakeholders.

As we readied ourselves for the expected management transition, my colleague B Thiagarajan who has been elevated as Joint Managing Director, and I felt that it is necessary for us to define a new direction for the Company. We see growth as the key priority and we must therefore not only grow our existing businesses faster than the market, but should explore new avenues for profitable growth and expand our footprint beyond India. If we are to succeed, we need to focus on delivering world-class products and services and on attracting as well as retaining the best available talent. The goal is very clearly to generate sufficient profits, strengthen the Balance Sheet, invest in the businesses and have adequate surpluses to pay good dividends.

Keeping these objectives at the forefront, we have prepared a detailed Strategic Plan called Blue Star @75 that serves as a blue print for the next three years when our Company turns 75 years young in FY19. The foundation of the plan is a new Vision, a Credo and a fortified set of Values & Beliefs, which together define the way forward for Blue Star. On this foundation, we have identified strategic objectives for each of our businesses, including entry into new geographies and solution segments, as well as strategic priorities for the support functions including R&D, digital/IT, marketing, business development, finance, human resources and supply chain. The plan is strengthened by a programme to transform the work culture, which we expect will lead to committed and energised teams and leaders with a strong entrepreneurial and an innovation mindset. The plan is supported with adequate investments including capital expenditure on new manufacturing capacity of ₹215 crores and revenue investments in the businesses and support functions of approximately ₹200 crores over the next three years.

So, how will Blue Star look in the future? We will have globally competitive AC&R products and solutions that are supported by substantial investments in product development, brand building and backward integration in manufacturing. We will attain leadership in the projects business by focussing on superior project delivery, and will lead the market with a Gold Standard in customer service. Our import-distribution business will be rejuvenated with a portfolio of new system integrated solutions, and we will grow our presence in the Middle East, SAARC, Africa and the ASEAN region. Our brand will extend into new lines of business beyond AC&R for both the consumer and the B2B markets. Our employees and extended organisation of partners will embrace digital technologies that will open up new channels and bring us closer to our customers. We will have a talented and highly productive team that will endeavour to drive excellence and be the best in everything that we do. We will have industry-leading profitability and other financial performance metrics.

As the new leadership, Thiagarajan and I take responsibility for delivering Blue Star @75. Behind us is a very capable team who is committed to building a future-ready Blue Star that will delight customers, while consistently delivering impressive financial performance. We look forward to your unstinting support in the journey ahead.
