Message from Chairman

The Indian economy had successfully gone through a major economic reform called the GST which is probably the biggest game changer going forward. The integration of the unorganized sector with the formal economy will be a major step that will enhance efficiency and result in higher growth in the long run. However, on account of this reform there was considerable adjustment made by corporates with respect to their inventories in the first quarter which was then compensated by higher production in the subsequent quarters. Therefore, performance tended to be uneven which also came in the way of fresh investment decisions. GDP growth came in lower at 6.7% compared with 7.1% in FY17 and gross fixed capital formation, which is the best macro indicator of the state of investment, remained flat at 28.5%. This is the background against which the performance of your company has to be evaluated.

For a rating company like yours' business comes from two main segments - corporate debt raised and bank loans rated. Here the overall picture was lower with total debt issuances being at Rs 6.04 lkh crore against Rs 6.70 lkh crore in FY17. While bank credit growth at the aggregate level recovered by March end, the two segments pertinent to a rating agency, industry and services registered growth rates of 0.7% (-1.9%) and 13.8% (16.9%) respectively. However, notwithstanding a lower macro performance your company attained higher growth of 24.9% in new business from Rs 13.19 lkh crore to Rs 16.48 lkh crore in FY18. Your company has done well in the CP and SME segments as well which has enabled topline growth of 14.7%. Net profit is now at Rs 161 core with growth of 5.8% in FY18. We can say with some pride that we continue to have a dominant share in the ET-500, BS-1000 and FE-500.

The rating environment was supported by two regulatory interventions. The first was the dual rating for CPs which has been a major benefit for us as we have made deeper inroads into this business. Second, the IBC resolution procedure has also provided us good opportunities for rating which in turn has helped our business.

We have also been focused on enhancing business from our subsidiaries because we believe that while rating will be our flagship business, there are opportunities to leverage in associated business lines. The two rating joint ventures CARE Ratings Africa and Care Ratings Nepal are already functional and have done good business. We have also started expanding the operations of our new Wholly Owned Company CARE Advisory, Research and Training Services Limited (CART) which we believe has potential to contribute significantly to our overall business. While advisory and customized research has been shaping up well, we have also launched a new online training programme in February 2018. These efforts have been complemented by our other wholly owned company CARE Risk Solutions Limited which has done well this year.

Keeping in mind the support we have received from shareholders we have proposed a total dividend of Rs 55 per share. This includes a special dividend of Rs 25 per share which is to celebrate our twenty fifth anniversary. We would be working to continuously enhance shareholder value.

We look forward positively for the new financial year which we think will be better in terms of the macroeconomic indicators. As the investment cycle picks up funding requirements will be a challenge especially from banks and in this context the corporate debt market will play an important role progressively. Bank funding will supplement this effort given the ongoing resolution of the NPA challenge. The efforts of the government, RBI and SEBI to provide a boost to the corporate debt market will start bearing fruit this year and we will continue to work towards stretching and achieving our goals.

Message from Managing Director & CEO

When the financial year started we did believe that the economic prospects would be better than FY17 post demonetization as the economy did come off well by March 2017. The introduction of GST in July was a major positive disruption which caused companies to readjust their production cycles which impacted investment decisions. As the year progressed an issue which came to the forefront was NPAs of banks and the resolution process. As several banks began recognizing their bad assets and went to the IBC for resolution the overall supply of credit was also impacted. Therefore, there have been some major changes in the economy which has added different hues to the contours of your company's business.

Here there has been dissimilar impact each pulling in different direction. The lower investment by companies and the slowdown in growth in bank credit came in the way of rating business. However, as the NPA resolution process involved a new business for us, the doors opened up further. We have been able to garner some business on this front. Simultaneously the RBI's rule on dual rating for CPs issued by companies which cross Rs 1000 cr in a year was leveraged by our business development team which is reflected in our business numbers. We had also focused a lot on the SMEs which we believe are the future of the country as these units will grow to become the LMEs of tomorrow. With the NSIC scheme virtually drying up, our strategy was to cross sell other products to these entities which has gotten reflected in our business growth.

We do realize that we are living in a challenging environment and we have to work best between these constraints. Regulatory changes can either enhance the contours or shrink them while the external environment including reforms can aid or come in the way of growth of business. The recent changes announced on dual rating of CPs or the RBI's large exposure norms provide a push to business. On the other hand we have seen that the rollback of the NSIC scheme or the withdrawal of mandatory IPO grading can push back business. Similarly while we can gain from the investment cycle picking up, it can get diluted if companies fund the same from ECBs or Masala bonds.

As custodians of the shareholders' trust we do believe in working hard in anticipating these pain points and creating strategies to counter the same so as to ensure that we are always on the growth path. This is why we have believed in gradual diversification because by moving over to non-rating products through our subsidiaries there is potential to have a parallel business successfully run.

We continue to focus on our human resources which has delivered consistently and FY18 is no exception. Our focus has also been on making our ratings system more robust and the change in the hierarchy of ratings to internal ratings committees which was pursued this year has been a major success. We would like to be known as a knowledge driven company which gets reflected not just in our ratings but also as an entity which has cogent views on all relevant subjects. Our economics and industry research teams do ensure that the company's views on all business and economic developments are known.

Your company has completed its 25th year, which is a major milestone and we do think that the next 25 years will be very different for us posing challenges and opportunities. The financial landscape is undergoing a metamorphosis and we are continuously monitoring the same and adjusting our business models to be more than aligned with the surrounding. This we hope will help us to remain ahead of the curve and deliver superior returns to the shareholders.
