committed to continuous and sustainable growth of itself with the help of its shareholders, customers, partners, employees and the society at large. Human needs are a driving force for innovation at Cian. By understanding the hierarchy of needs a goal directed behaviour of the company is achievable and is definitely a continuous process. The hierarchy of needs is a well known theory of psychology which is a classic pyramidal depiction of human motivation. The needs at lower level are satisfied prior to the needs high up. We say Cian is "meta motivated" i.e. to go beyond the scope of basic needs and strive for constant betterment of the lives of people. With this in mind each of our brands have a different story .

We place AMRUTDHARA oils and CIAN SPICES as basic physiological needs.

The next level is safety and security needs amrino and Klaren are placed here for healthcare and sanitation needs.

Once an individual rises above these levels relationships and a sense of belongingness are of utmost importance to him the bath and body products range are sure to give a beautiful skin and an impressive persona.

Rising up one more level prestige needs develop a concern . People often engage in activities to gain recognition. These actions give the person a sense of contribution neu is an eco-friendly venture of detergents and home care range made by replacing petroleum origin raw material with sugar. Thus an esteemed initiative.

Self actualisation in today's definition is realization and giving back to the society that gives us endlessly. In a move to achieve this we extract amino acid from human hair which goes in the bio-fertilisers and micronutrients bottled under which improves farmers' yield and in turn empowers the most significant part of the Indian Economy.

Creating best brands over the decades.
