MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

1. OVERALL REVIEW

During the year under review, crude oil and petrochemical prices, not only remained volatile but also rose to an alarming level in the international market. In addition to this, financial crisis particularly in the United States resulted in slow down of major economies in the world. Consequently, Indian economy also slowed down and this impacted almost all industries. The automobile industry specifically commercial vehicle manufacturers, transport operators and tyre industry to whom the Company is supplying its products, directly or indirectly, also suffered badly. Weakening of Indian Rupee against US Dollar was another important factor to adversely impact the Indian industry.

In the backdrop of the above situation, the profitability of the Company during first nine months of the Financial Year 2008-09 suffered adversely. In this period, the raw material and fuel costs were the highest of recent times. This resulted in fall in demand specifically in the textile industry and consequently lower profit margins. However, during the last quarter, the onset of global recession brought about a substantial drop in crude oil and petrochemical prices. The steep fall in raw material and fuel prices helped generate domestic demand in the textile industry and improved financial performance.

During the year 2007-08 and in the first nine months of the year 2008-09, the impact of foreign currency fluctuation on the outstanding foreign currency loans pertaining to capital account was charged to Profit & Loss Account. However, in the fourth quarter of 2008-09, with the recent changes in the Accounting Standard-11 by the Central Government, the Company has decided to capitalize the same for both these years. Consequently, for the year 2007-08 a sum of Rs. 3.96 crores has been capitalized by crediting Rs. 2.62 crores to General Reserve and creating a deferred tax asset of Rs.1.34 crores. Similarly, for the year 2008-09 a sum of Rs. 9.34 crores has been capitalized. After the said capitalization, the foreign exchange loss for the whole year chargeable to Profit & Loss Account stands at Rs. 22.71 crores. At plant operational level, in the face of adversities during a rather eventful year, the Company took pragmatic decisions pertaining to production, inventory management, financial management which are normally required during changing economic environment and was able to improve its overall performance.

2. INDUSTRY STRUCTURE & DEVELOPMENT

Raw material and energy are the most important costs of synthetic yarn industry. Since these costs are crude oil derivatives, the short-term performance of the industry is closely linked with the movement of crude oil prices in the international market. However, in the long run, it is the growing domestic demand which provides growth momentum to this industry.

The Government of India has taken several measures to stimulate the Indian economy. The textile industry, the second largest employer in the country and a foreign currency earner, also got due attention and support from the Government of India. In December 2008, excise duty on polyester and nylon yarns was reduced from 8% to 4%. This, coupled with falling crude oil prices, has helped improve the prospects of this industry for the time being. The demand has started picking up from January 2009.

The problem of accumulation in CENVAT credit due to inverted excise duty structure where duties on raw material are higher than finished goods particularly in case of Polyester POY, continues. It is further compounded by accumulation on account of purchase of capital goods. The synthetic yarn industry has made several representations to the Government of India, but so far the Government has not provided any relief to the industry.

Polyester is a poor man's fibre. The demand is growing continuously. To cater to the growing demand, substantial increase in polyester capacities have been planned for 2009-10. It is likely to create mis-match in demand supply situation. Polyester chips market will have over supply situation in the near future forcing under utilization of polyester chips capacities.

Nylon Filament Yarn (NFY) market has remained stagnant. The closure of one of the NFY capacity in the year under review and fall in raw material prices in the fourth quarter has helped NFY market and profit margin has improved. Nylon Tyre Cord Fabric (NTCF) demand is linked with the fortunes of transport and commercial vehicle
