LOOKING BEYONDPatterns : Going Beyond Quarterlies

Over the last few years, the world over, shareholders have been bombarded with a plethora of data – Quarterly Results, Disclosure Notes, Rating Analyses, Financial Analyses, SEBI-linked Disclosures, Corporate Governance reports, Management Discussion & Analysis, Audit reports, etc. etc.

That set me pondering over what feedback I share with you all, which is not a disguised repeat of what is already covered under the Directors' Report or the Management Discussion section, and yet is meaningful:

Where are we headed.....beyond quarterly results.....beyond financial ratios.....beyond the year under review and beyond the year ahead.....

"The fact is, each of us knows far more about reality past, present and future than we are able to understand and express rationally. And, whether or not we work on our inner development, we all experience, with our intuitive minds, the most profound truths about our world and our destiny. What we must do, then, is use our analytical, logical mind to bring this potential vital information to the surface, where we can use it.

The idea is to translate our experiences all the way from the subjective and worldly to the objective and universal.....Patterns emerge, periodically they repeat themselves....."

There are no specifics..... only patterns
Patterns which form a scenario.....
Patterns which trigger opportunities.....
Patterns which an entrepreneur can shape.....

First, the Macro patterns :
Ten years back, fast forward to today : The Macro Economic Drivers
A booming middle-class population....
A world brought together with a unifying media and interactive internet....
Government and country barriers to trade, lowering
Infrastructure development on an overdrive....
Low cost funds....

As we pull together these jigsaw pieces.....what are the writings on the wall for business.....
