REVIEW OF KEY BUSINESS MATTERS

Economic growth in 2017-18 at 6.6% continued to keep capacity utilization across many industries sub-optimal, and private investment remains low. However stabilizing GST, addressing stressed loans and recapitalization of banks, and the prospects of a normal monsoon suggest a return to improved domestic GDP growth in coming years. In other economies and our export markets, consumer and business confidence in recent months together with projected global GDP rise in 2018/2019 translate into positive signs of accelerating global trade particularly which in the Company views is optimistic.

The Company's products faced stagnant demand and competitive pressures from synthetic and blended fabrics and cheaper supplies from China. A marked shift to ready-mades and the move away from formal wear is also impacting overall superior fabric demand globally. Besides disruptive effects of GST implementation, particularly the resistance from textile trade and markets, severe working capital constraints continued in the year intensifying the vicious-circle nexus with operating losses.

Demand is particularly affected due general liquidity constraints in the market, impacted by the time-consuming recovery from demonetization - unlike a faster recover seen by FMCG - and the disruptions during transition to GST. Besides the demand situation, the Company's operations suffered hugely due to the said combination of working capital constraints and cash losses. During the year, sales volume were lower at 16.4 lac metres (previous year: 27.2 lac metres) resulting in a substantially lower revenue of Rs. 59.0 crores (previous year : Rs. 99.2 crores).

To address the difficult financial position the management has been continuously focusing on avenues to raise resources including through sale of surplus assets to induct funds into operations and reduce debt. The general tight liquidity conditions were not conducive to asset sales last year, but the Company expects success in its efforts during the current year. A reasonable assessment is that there is sufficient underlying value in surplus and disposable assets to make a meaningful impact on the Company's finances.

The Company transitioned to the GST system satisfactorily and there have been no major hitches. Despite the initial effects and challenges a stabilized and moderated GST will help improve business prospects and trade.
