Emami has tapped into the wisdom of the ages.
In a refreshingly modern way.

Ayurveda remedies represent a system of medicine that is in harmony with nature.

Ayurveda, literally translated, means 'the science or knowledge of life'. Ayurveda believes that everything in life - our diet, our leisure space, our working life, our relationship with friends and family - is inter-connected. They influence our physical and mental well-being.

The Ayurvedic conclusion is that a disharmony in this inter-connection causes ailments and diseases.

Emami's healing is in line with the Ayurvedic prescription:

it helps re-establish the harmony between the individual and the environment.

Emami has successfully combined traditional Ayurveda research with scientific laboratory practices to make products that are safe, mild and effective.

As a result, Emami Limited is one of India's largest and most respected names in the nature-based health care and personal care business.

The Ayurveda market - in India and the world

Emami addresses a large market. The market for alternative medicines in India is worth Rs 42000 mn (USD 913 mn). Ayurvedic medicine accounts for 84 percent of this market.

Spending on alternative medicines in India increased by 69 per cent over the last decade while in the world market it grew by 30 percent. Driven by two inter-related factors: an increase in income and fashion consciousness.

The target consuming segment: 500 million over the next five years. The World Health Organisation has projected that the global market for traditional medicine will grow to $ 5 trillion by 2050.

The market for traditional health care products has grown aggressively in the West despite a low population of doctors who prescribe traditional health care products.
