Item No. 7

The existing Authorised Share Capital of the Company is Rs 100,00,00,000/- (Rupees One Hundred Crores only) divided into 10,00,00,000 (Ten Crores) Equity Shares of the face value of Rs 10/- each. ## DIRECTORS' REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

Ladies and Gentlemen :

It gives us immense pleasure to present the 59th Annual Report together with the Audited Accounts of the Company for the year ended 31st March, 2006.

Economic Environment

India has been the flavour of the year for international investors. The second highest growth of GDP for two years running has seen most economic indicators showing an upward trend. Unprecedented foreign exchange inflows resulting in the country crossing the US$150 billion reserves milestone, along with low inflation, has added to buoyancy of the capital markets.

In the light of the above, the Central Budget brought about a further reduction in customs duty without any changes in the direct tax levy. The simplification of the fringe benefit tax, along with a host of measures to kick-start the rural economy, have been welcomed by a broad plank of Industry. The focus on infrastructure through programmes such as Bharat Nirman and the National Urban Renewal mission, would help to ensure that both investment and outcomes in this sector, will prove beneficial for the economy.

Performance

The year under review helped the company to maintain its leadership position in both India and South Asia, as the largest power solutions company. In a year of rising expectations, your company performed extremely well with gross sales rising to Rs 17610.8 million for the first time once again.

In the original equipment segment of the automotive sector, vehicle production grew in almost all segments, including the tractor market. The production of automotive batteries for four wheelers increased from 4.27 million units to 4.61 million units, whereas, production of two wheeler batteries, rose from 4.83 million units to 5.76 million units. The production of batteries for industrial applications touched 800 million amp hours as compared to 700 amp hours in the earlier year. Your company continued to dominate the car market with an 80% share and an overall market share of 78%. The significant feature for the current year is the announcement of differential excise duty by the Finance Minister, which would help India emerge as a hub for small cars.

Your company has, in the meanwhile, obtained the full business from Toyota, including their new Innova as well as Corolla model. Maruti has placed its custom with your company for their Swift diesel model and the model 'L', which is expected to replace the Esteem. Negotiations are on with Tata Motors, for a battery for their ACE vehicle. Batteries are under development for Tata Motors world truck models, as well as the Volvo truck. The Mahindra Renault collaboration, which would produce the Logan in India, has also nominated your company for their battery. Hyundai Motor's new car is also expected to have Exide batteries powering it.

The retail segment revealed another year of high growth for both Exide and Standard Furukawa brands. This was a creditable performance in view of a highly competitive scenario, arising out of both imports and domestic manufacturers, who have been selling their products at prices well below those of your company. A major part of this success is on account of your company's stated strategy of having products positioned at each segment of the market in order to present the buyer with multiple choices, all from the company's production lines.

Replacement sales in the tractor battery after market, under Project Kissan, covered more than 25,000 villages in over 250 districts. Your company has identified this segment along with the commercial vehicle markets, as the engines of future growth. Steady progress continued to be made in both these segments. Sale of two wheeler batteries continued its eleventh successive year of growth. In the original equipment segment, your company introduced a maintenance-free battery entitled Zero-M at the end of 2005, which has evoked an encouraging market response. Your company proposes to continue its expansion of two wheeler battery manufacturing capacity, in order to cater to the continuing increase in the population of two wheelers in the country. The steep rise in the price of lead has, however, affected export of automotive batteries, which would otherwise have been higher than the level recorded in the year under review.

Sale of batteries for industrial applications experienced high growth during the past year. The company was able to increase its market share by cannibalizing competition and fighting imports. In the infrastructural sector, the telecom scenario was buoyant with a growth of almost 50%.

Railway business, while presenting a smaller increase, did have a redeeming feature with a price increase being made available, for your company's products. The power sector is set to boom and recorded a 27% growth in the year under review, which is likely to continue in the current year. Export of traction batteries registered a major growth, with supplies to Australia, UK, South Korea and the European markets. South Africa is a market which your company is seeking to explore in greater depth. Your company has once again won the award for Export Excellence from the EEPC.

The submarine division started the year without any orders from the Indian Navy.

However, subsequent orders materialized which were supplied within the last month of the financial year and orders for further batteries have since been received, to be supplied in the current year.

While the duty on lead imports have been retained at 5%, the duty on finished batteries have been reduced to 10%. Even though this by itself is not a cause for concern, the free trade agreements signed with Thailand and the upcoming one with Asean countries, do raise the spectre of a flood of imports. This is particularly so, as import duty on lead in Thailand and a few Asean countries, is lower than that in India. However, it is heartening to note that your company has now learnt to live with high lead prices. Cost reduction measures such as improving efficiencies at the plant level, redesigning existing products with a view to reducing lead content and other such measures have contributed their might to keeping costs within a narrow band, which fluctuates with the international price of lead. All this has been enhanced by more efficient working capital management, as the financial results below clearly delineate:

New Products

During the year under review, your company reinforced its technology leadership in the Indian market with the introduction of a select range of ultrasonically sealed zero-maintenance batteries.

Hitherto, completely sealed batteries have been considered to be a risk proposition in India, primarily on account of higher ambient temperatures and a relatively low quality of charging systems. R&D has introduced significant innovations in lead calcium technology, which have seen the manufacture of these batteries, which are currently undergoing field trials.

A newly developed maintenance free type motor cycle battery, has also been developed with supplies expected to commence in the current month.

In view of competitive pressure in Maruti's low end vehicles, a low cost product has been developed with added features and enhanced warranty period. An international patent has been granted to your company in March 2006 for the vented type leak resistant motor cycle battery.

Technical assistance agreements with both Shin-Kobe and Furukawa, have been extended for a further period of five years. These agreements not only incorporate provisions relating to process innovations and further quality upgradation, but also seek to ensure reduction on warranty costs and critical technical support for new designs that your company's R&D Centre introduces from time to time.

A power pack for the REVA Electric car is now in regular production at Haldia. Low maintenance batteries for diesel loco applications in Railways, have also been approved.

Human Resources

In a competitive world, your company's policy of a thrust on quality as a priority and TQM is what distinguishes it from competition. Your company has migrated to TS 16949:2002 standard with RWTUV awarding this certification – the latest in quality management systems for the automotive industry worldwide, for the Bawal, Hosur, Chinchwad and Taloja plants, which cover the related activities at R&D, Head Office, marketing services etc. Haldia and Shamnagar plants are also expected to be certified by June 2006.

Proof that this thrust on quality has paid dividends is available in the awards won by Haldia and Shamnagar with the CII Quality Award, the CII Alloy Steel Plant trophy for Quality, CII's Productivity Award as well as the Environment Excellence Award from ICC and West Bengal Pollution Control Board. For the first time, your company has received a Quality Award from Maruti for supplies made in the earlier year.

The Batmobile service of your company has crossed yet another milestone with over 400,000 calls having been attended at an average response time of 28 minutes across 24 major cities in India. Your company continues to believe that this link with the end consumer will ensure that your company's products remain the preferred choice. For the first time, a CRM project has been implemented where dealers are being trained in order to feed in customer data and track their supply positions, along with stocks held. It is expected that when a larger cross section of dealers start using the system, it would significantly enhance your company's demand projection planning process for the retail segment of automotive batteries.

In a competitive scenario, all organisations are under intense pressure to reduce costs, expand into new territories and innovate new products. Supply chain is one of the areas of focus in an effort to ensure that the delivery mechanism for inflow of materials as well as their outflow, becomes a seamless and efficient process. Your company has adopted the supply-chain management concept in order to ensure that processes become far more efficient as marketing becomes more and more complex.

Your Directors wish to place on record the appreciation of the contribution by all employees of the Company in ensuring high levels of performance and efficiency, which has helped your Company to scale higher pinnacles of success. The Company also desires to place on record, its appreciation of the support and co-operation of the distributors, C&F agents, dealers, bankers and all others associated as partners in progress.

Finance

As interest rates hardened, your company continued to focus on more efficient working capital management, in order to ensure that borrowings remained within a defined limit. It is a tribute to the efficiency in this segment that the overall borrowings of your company have remained within the parameters of the earlier year, despite the turnover having increased significantly.

External Commercial borrowings of Japanese Yen, equivalent to US$ 20 million, were availed of by the company during the year under review.

During the year under review, your company invested an amount of Rs 2569.87 million acquiring a 50% share of ING Vysya Life Insurance Co. Pvt. Ltd. Your Directors believe that India is largely an under insured market and this industry has the potential to grow manifold. It is believed that this would be in the long term interest of maximizing shareholder value.

The Haldia Integrated Development Agency had introduced a scheme under which all large units in Haldia would subscribe to a special purpose vehicle – HIDAL which would undertake building of infrastructural facilities. Your company has subscribed a small amount in order to ensure that it can participate in all such infrastructural facilities, as may be developed, from time to time.

Your company received a proposal for supply of gas from a company – ARKAY Energy (Rameswaram) who are setting up a power generating station at Ramanathapuram District, Tamil Nadu. The company has been financed by IDFC, UTI Bank and Union Bank, with several companies having entered into power supply agreements. Your company has also entered into a similar agreement and contributed to its share capital, which is a pre-requisite for obtaining such supplies. It is expected that this will reduce your company's dependence on Tamilnadu Electricity Board, as well as help lower energy costs.

Corporate Governance

Transparency has been a watchword with your company and as on date, all requirements of corporate governance are adhered to by your company, both in letter and spirit. As you are aware, your company has a model code for Insider Trading which was introduced in the year 2004. In addition, your company continues to maintain a strong internal control system backed up by dedicated internal audit teams, which work on a regional basis.

The Audit Committee of the Board meets at regular intervals as required in terms of Clause 49 of the Listing Agreement. Furthermore, the provisions of this Clause in regard to Corporate Governance, as revised by SEBI, became operational from 31st December, 2005. Your company's Board of Directors have taken all necessary steps to ensure compliance with the revised requirements. A Code of Conduct, as applicable to Directors and Senior Management personnel, has also been put in place, as required.

Your company's directors are taking necessary steps for obtaining Director Identification Number [DIN].

Auditors' Report

Observations made in the Auditors' Report read with the notes to accounts are self explanatory and do not require any further clarification.

The Auditors' Certificate on compliance with Corporate Governance requirements is also enclosed.

During the year under review, your Company's 100% subsidiary, Chloride International Limited continued its operations in non-conventional energy systems, such as solar lanterns and solar home lights. The turnover has more than trebled with profitability increasing manifold.

Your company's subsidiary in Singapore, Chloride Batteries S E Asia Pte Limited has continued its profitable operations in the South East Asian and Australian markets despite a degrowth in automotive business. Traction batteries for industrial applications however, presents a growing market especially in certain types where demand could not be fully met due to capacity constraints.
