Management Discussion and Analysis(a) Industry Structure and Developments

The Company's core business operations fall in the broad categories of agriculture, construction, automotive, energy, mining and more specifically the on-off highway power transmission sector. Indian Manufacturers of gears for these markets/industries can be classified on the basis of being an original equipment supplier or a replacement market supplier or a combination of both. Currently, leading manufacturers in these industries source their gear requirements through their captive in-house facilities, if any, or from suppliers approved by them. Fairfield Atlas Ltd., is one such approved and preferred supplier to OEM's in the markets mentioned above. The demand for the company's product is a derived demand and hence is dependent upon the growth rate of its OEM customers. The fiscal stimuli of the government and the budget proposals have lifted customer confidence and the domestic economy looks set to charter a fresh growth trajectory which augurs well for the company. Domestic sales in the past few months reflect the growing confidence of the customers. On the export front, the economies of the countries where the company products are supplied seem to manifest modest signs of recovery though not a sustained up-turn as yet.

(b) Opportunities and Threats

The domestic demand for the company's products being an ancillary demand, the future of the company's domestic business depends significantly on the growth of the infrastructure segment, as well as the agriculture market. Fiscal stimuli introduced by the Government has lifted customer confidence and the positive signs from the industry are encouraging. The company has seized this opportunity and responded through selective and strategic capacity and capability improvements and increases. With the construction industry in India seemingly on a long-term growth trajectory, the company has identified the opportunities for serving various markets through its diversified range of products. At present the company supplies to several of the major Indian and global OEM's that participate in the manufacture of excavators, compactors, dumpers, tippers, etc...and envision to continue diversifying its customer-base and product offering in the coming years. The manufacturing capabilities in India, coupled with the additional offerings and engineering capabilities from the U.S. parent company position us well for the envisioned growth.

(c) Segment-Wise Performance

The company has determined its business segments as on-highway (select applications), agriculture, mining, energy and construction related transmission gears. There are no other primary reportable segments since 100% of the company's business is from transmission-type gears. As indicated above, the company will evaluate and establish strategic investment and growth to appropriate segments that will yield appropriate returns on investment.

(d) Outlook

The Indian economy appears to have shaken off the gloom and looks set to charter a fresh growth strategy as can be evidenced from the upward trend and stabilization in the domestic business of the company for the second half of the year under review. These signs give a positive outlook for the company's domestic business. On the export front there are slight signs of revival though not yet a sustained upturn. To face the new scenario and defend its profitability the company has continued on the path towards lean manufacturing through active participation and leadership via the ACMA Cluster project. Building long term and deep relationships with our customers remains an ongoing focus to meet the challenges of a changing economy.

(e) Internal Control System

The company conducts its business based on ethical practices and in conformity with the laws and regulations that govern its business. It has a well established frame work of internal control in operation with suitable monitoring procedures of various parameters supported by the ERP system mechanism. The Statutory Audit is supplemented by review of the financial and operating controls by the Internal Audit conducted by a reputed firm of Chartered Accountants. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors actively reviews the adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control systems and suggests improvements. The company's cost records are subject to Cost Audit as prescribed by the Government. Compliance with various laws and regulations pertaining to the company are also monitored by placing compliance reports at every Audit Committee meeting.

(f) Human Resources / Industrial Relations

Industrial relations at the Plant continue to be cordial. The company is striving to cultivate an organizational culture that is conducive to the welfare and safety of its employees. The company has recently concluded a four year wage settlement effective 1st July 2009 with the workers union. As a sequel salary structure of the non-bargainable staff has also been revised. The employees have played a key role in contributing to the growth and reputation of the company.

The company has a strength of 479 permanent employees as on 31st March, 2010.

(g) Risks and Concerns

Since export revenues continue to be a significant contributor to the Company's turnover a slackening of the export markets can have an impact on the overall profitability. Another matter of concern is the fluctuating rate of the dollar which can sometimes have a negative effect on the company's export competitiveness, import bill and loan repayment commitments. The Company's domestic business being tied to the automobiles and tractor business any slow down there due to low demand or vagaries of the monsoon could percolate and affect the company's business. Rising of input costs could impair profitability of the company's business whereas concerns of escalation in oil prices could crimp recovery of the economy as a whole.

DISCUSSION ON FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE WITH RESPECT TO OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCEFINANCIAL INFORMATION*FIXED ASSETS

The company's fixed asset gross block remained more or less at the same level as the previous year.

INVENTORIES

Inspite of the slow down in the export business, the company was able to maintain its inventory at more or less the same level as the previous year.

SUNDRY DEBTORS

Sundry debtors for the year ended 31st March, 2010 amounted to Rs.2716.03 lakhs being an increase of 63% over the previous year's sundry debtors which amounted to Rs.1662.07 lakhs. The increase in debtors is due to granting of extended period of credit to overseas buyers as compared to previous year.

Finance Cost	71.32	134.50
Depreciation	637.19	721.89

Cost of Goods Sold: The company has reduced its COGS as compared to previous financial year due to change in product mix and additions of new products for existing and new customers.

Employee Costs: The increase in employee costs is due to increased wages and salaries paid to the workmen and other employees consequent upon signing up of new wage agreement effective from 1st July, 2009.

Manufacturing Costs: Manufacturing Costs and other expenses for the financial year has been reduced since the company had a foreign exchange gain during the financial year as compared to a foreign exchange loss of approximately Rupees 10 crores for the previous financial year. Additionally the company has also reduced all other expenses in line with its quantum of sales.

Finance Cost: Interest cost has been reduced due to lowering of LIBOR rate applicable to the term loans and appreciation in the value of rupee vis-a-vis the US Dollar.

Depreciation: Depreciation has reduced due to working of factory on two-shift basis for part of the financial year.

Certain statements in the Management Discussion and Analysis describing the Company's objectives, projections, estimates, expectations or predictions may be "forward – looking statements" within the meaning of applicable securities laws and regulations. Actual results could differ from those expressed or implied. Important factors that could make a difference to the Company's operations include raw material availability and prices.
