In tune with globalisation, we have been able to cut cost thereby being able to become viable in the export markets. In turn samples to a major customer has been submitted and approval has also been received. In keeping with the same, we expect good growth in the years to come in the export market.

As you all are aware that there is a continuous slack in the engineering industry. To turn the table around, we have diversified ourselves in many new products to cater automobile sector in domestic market as well as export market by developing Brake Drums, Piston sets and Hydraulic Pumps. The R&D of the related products have already taken shape and size. This market is having a great potentation of about Rs. 70-80 Crores p.a. Looking to the existing major market holders we projected ourselves to share atleast 10% in the year 1998-99 only.
