Chairman's Message

The Company had a healthy New Business Margin (NBM) of 21.6% during the year and its NBM continued to be among the best in industry

Dear Shareholders,

The financial year ending March 31, 2017 has been an important year in the journey for HDFC Life. The Company continued to consolidate its position as a long-term player in the industry with its focus on customer service, stronger product propositions and improved profitability. During the year, the Company also announced a potential merger with Max Life Insurance Company with a view to increase the width of its distribution, balance the product mix and to leverage the revenue and cost synergies between the two companies. The biggest leverage for the merged entity will come from employees of both the companies. The regulatory approvals for the proposed merger are awaited at this moment.

The macro-economic factors and demographics in India continue to support the growth of life insurance business. However, the competitive intensity remains high, leading to "short-term" behaviour patterns by players that are value-eroding for the industry. Your Company has continued to tread a path of profitable growth and customer-centricity in these times. New Business Margin (NBM) is a key indicator of the health of any life insurance business. The Company had a healthy NBM of 21.6% during the year and its NBM continued to be among the best in industry. The Company registered a growth of 19% in the overall premium, while Indian GAAP profits grew at 9% over last year. The Company maintained a steady growth rate of 9% over last year in the Individual business (WRP). The Company has been at the forefront of technology adoption and turning itself into a digital insurer. Multiple initiatives in these areas have led to more straight through processing, faster customer response times and automation of processes. All of these have led to the Embedded Value (EV) of the Company growing at a healthy rate of 21% over last year.

Financial services sector in India has seen rapid changes during the last year. The pace of digital adoption by Banks, NBFCs and Insurers has accelerated quite significantly. Newer players like payment banks, digital wallets and FinTech companies are introducing innovative models for customer acquisition and service. While it is early days for them, their approach is nudging the traditional players to rethink their processes and business models. Further, the one-time exercise by the Government of India in November 2016 to phase out currency bills of ₹ 500 and ₹ 1,000 and replace them with newer bills (commonly referred to as demonetisation) has increased digital adoption significantly during the year. The Government's continued efforts in increasing the usage of Jan Dhan accounts, Aadhaar and Mobile ("JAM Trinity") is also broadening the base for financial participation and reducing the costs to reach new and unserved customer segments.

These positive changes open up new possibilities for HDFC Life. Building an agile, multi-distribution platform was one of the key strategic themes chosen by the Company as part of its strategic planning exercise last year. The Company is building an ecosystem of alliance partners spread across Banks, NBFCs, Small Finance Banks, Payment Banks and Ecommerce aggregators and integrating with their technology platforms to acquire and service customers. The distribution platform provides a frictionless, paperless customer onboarding
