Expanding and Entrenching

Hindustan Media Ventures Limited's stellar performance in recent years is a result of the unwavering focus on expanding and entrenching the footprints of Hindustan, its flagship publication, in the states of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. As difficult as it may be to believe, until 2005, Hindustan's presence in this region was limited to just two editions - Lucknow and Varanasi.

Over the next six years, Hindustan ushered in an expansion strategy defined by immaculate planning and flawless execution. 10 new editions were rolled out in succession - Agra in July 2006, Kanpur in August 2006, Dehradun in May 2008, Meerut in October 2008, Haldwani and Allahabad in January 2009, Bareilly in October 2009, Gorakhpur in December 2010, Aligarh in December 2011 and Moradabad in February 2012. As a result, Hindustan has recorded a six-fold increase in its circulation in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand from 2005 to 2012. With 12 editions, Hindustan now covers the entirety of these two states.

All this while, the Company kept strengthening its undisputed leadership position in Bihar and Jharkhand and also made rapid strides in the National Capital Region. Not surprising then, Hindustan has consistently ranked high amongst top-gainers in subsequent rounds of the Indian Readership Survey.

Another strategic initiative during this phase was restaging of Hindustan. Responding to the pulse of youth, the newspaper adopted a refreshed and vibrant design coupled with more meaningful content. Several new content initiatives like Hindustan Money and Jaano English were launched, to the overwhelming appreciation of the readers.

CHAIRPERSON'S MESSAGE

Gains in UP & Uttarakhand are a game-changer

Dear Shareholders,

Four years ago, it was the US economy that gave us all sleepless nights. Today, it is the Eurozone. The protracted period of global uncertainty – albeit with some sharp growth spikes locally – has even begun to have an impact on economies once considered immune to such factors. Russia, China and India are slowing. Brazil, the other constituent of the famed BRIC economies, is in marginal decline.

Times are tough, but, as always, opportunities abound for companies with sound ideas and the wherewithal to see these to fruition. Those companies that identify and leverage these opportunities are the ones that will successfully weather the slowdown.

FY 12 was a tough one for the Indian economy which expanded by 6.5%, the lowest in recent memory. The country received a double blow from the Eurozone crisis and its own inability to create an environment conducive to growth. Investment, both foreign and domestic, in India waned and the government seemed unable to curtail its swelling fiscal deficit. The rupee plunged sharply against the dollar, which emerged a safe-haven investment for investors scared by happenings in the Eurozone and emerging markets. The lack of a clear message from New Delhi on second-generation reforms, including foreign investment in key sectors, dampened investor sentiment further. Still, there are clear signs emerging now that the government is prepared to do what is needed to attract investment and improve business confidence.

The Media Story

The media industry in India continued to grow. English language publications managed to hold on. Regional language ones expanded rapidly and new media acquired some traction. Print media remains a force to be reckoned with, accounting for 46% of the ₹300.1 billion spent on advertising (TV accounted for 39%, Internet, 5%, radio, 4%, and others, 6%).

Despite trying economic conditions, your Company remained at the vanguard of the media industry in terms of performance. We also made key investments that will see us through the slowdown. Our growth rate was higher than the industry's – indication enough that our strategies are working. Our investment philosophy remains the same – plan for the future, invest in new growth engines, and cater to emerging customer needs.

Spirited Performance

Despite a tough macro-economic environment, your Company registered a spirited performance. Revenue grew by an impressive 17% over last year to touch ₹6,173 million in 2011-12.

Advertising revenue grew by 17% to ₹4,392 million and circulation revenue, 10% to ₹1,348 million.

Our strong circulation push didn't come at the cost of profitability. Our EBITDA margin expanded by 100 basis points to 19%, taking our EBITDA to ₹1,145 million. Our net profit margin too expanded by 100 basis points, despite a 14% increase in cost of raw material indicating astute cost and fiscal management. We ended the year with a net profit of ₹653 million and a net profit margin of 11%. Your Company's annualized earnings per share stood at ₹8.90 and I am happy to share with you that the board of directors has recommended a dividend of 12% for shareholders' approval in their ensuing Annual General Meeting (AGM).

Accomplishing Mission Expansion

As many of you are aware, Hindustan has been pursuing a strategy of aggressive expansion over the past few years. Our objective has been to expand our footprint across the length and breadth of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. We have also worked towards further fortifying our undisputed leadership in Bihar and Jharkhand and consolidating our No.2 position in Delhi and NCR.

With the launch of our 12th edition in Moradabad, Uttar Pradesh, we have accomplished this mission. We have made handsome gains across geographies and the true value of the gains from our investments and expansions will be wholly realized over the next four or five years.

Readership Gains

Our readership (AIR) grew by 3% in the course of the year to reach 12.15 million. In Bihar, readership grew 1%, to reach a readership share of 72% and 4.8 million readers. In Jharkhand, we have 1.76 million readers and a readership share of 49%. In Delhi and the National Capital Region, we remained a strong No.2 with 1.24 million readers.

The gains in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand promise to be a game-changer. I am delighted to share with you that according to the Q1 2012 round of the Indian Readership Survey, Hindustan is the fastest growing daily in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand once again. Our readership in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand has swelled to 4.43 million readers translating into a 11.7% year-on-year growth. With an exclusive readership of 2.87 million, the future looks very bright for Hindustan.

The Road Ahead

With the mission of expansion complete, we do not have any significant capital expenditure planned. At the same time, we are comfortably placed with a strong balance sheet and net cash of ₹2,341 million. This gives us the ability to pursue growth opportunities, both organic and inorganic.

Our aim is to leverage the benefits of scale and further enhance our operational efficiencies, strengthen our reach and build a strong leadership position across the entire Indo-Gangetic region. We are prepared to invest in our people, processes and brand.

Acknowledgment

I would like to thank all our stakeholders, employees, shareholders, readers, advertisers, lenders, the central and state governments, and society at large for helping us come this far. I would like to invite you to accompany us in our quest to create and share sustained value.

With best regards,

Overcoming challenges with flying colours

Amidst a challenging economic environment, when the Indian Rupee saw considerable depreciation against global currencies, consumers, retail, as well as corporate entities reoriented their focus towards preserving cash reserves. In light of increasing cost of capital, investments came to a virtual standstill. The Indian growth story appeared to fizzle out as global perceptions about India and its ratings dampened. At 6.5%, India witnessed its lowest GDP growth in the last nine years. In spite of the severe global downturn, the Company emerged as a visionary leader in the industry and posted exceptional results.

The Company's second year of operations as a listed company was also a landmark year for its Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand expansion strategy. It navigated the dual challenges of forging ahead with expansion in the region on one hand, while weathering wide ranging economic challenges on the other. The crux of these challenges lies in balancing continued expansion with consequential increased operational expenditure as well as countering the existing notions of the print media business' long gestation periods.

Beset by challenges on both the global and regional fronts, the Company prepared itself for a testing year. While the project team stayed focused on adding new geographies (read editions) as envisaged, the circulation team continued to exponentially augment the reader base in every existing edition, with special attention to the newer editions in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. The team at the helm of operations worked through various permutations and combinations in order to optimize cost and efficiency.

The editorial team continued to cater to the readers with innovative content aligned to its quintessential belief and promise in "Tarakki Ko Chahiye Naya Nazariya" (Progress demands a new perspective). At a time when advertisers were reducing their media spends significantly in terms of volume and cementing their resolve to cut costs, the advertising team prevailed against all odds to register a commendable performance in recent times.

In a nutshell, the Company posted a well orchestrated response to the challenging business environment posed by FY 12. Total revenues increased by 17% to reach ₹617 Crore from ₹526 Crore in the previous year; with a 17% increase in advertisement revenues and 10% increase in circulation revenues. EBITDA margins expanded by a full 100 basis point to reach 19% and EBITDA increased to ₹114 Crore. These numbers were achieved despite the cost of raw material going up by 14%.

Net profit margins also expanded by 100 basis points and stood tall at 11%. With net profit reaching ₹65 Crore, EPS (annualized) stood at ₹8.90. The Board of Directors recommended a dividend of 12% for shareholders' approval at their Annual General Meeting.

Note: The Company had acquired 'Hindi Business' of HT Media Limited (Holding Company) w.e.f. 1.12.2009 and hence, prior period data has been carved out from the financials of HT Media Limited.

Establishing connect, building relationships

The mainstream newspaper business in India is largely driven by advertising revenues. Advertisers, mostly through advertising agencies, choose the right newspapers in which to advertise their products and services. Newspapers attempt to better monetize their quantitative and qualitative reach in comparison to their peers. As aggregator, counsel and negotiator, advertising agencies play a vital role in growing the advertising business and act as a bridge between the advertiser and media organizations.

The launch of the Aligarh and Moradabad editions in FY 12 marked the completion of Company's expansion in the states of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. To celebrate this momentous feat, the Company initiated a coordinated campaign to communicate the reach and strength of Hindustan in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. The thought behind the campaign was to generate excitement, build connect and capture top of the mind recall, in turn establishing Hindustan as a medium encompassing the Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand belt with its 12 editions.

A unique B2B printed direct mailer, "Hindustan Sweeps Uttar Pradesh & Uttar Pradesh" was circulated to establish quick and effective recall. Aimed at creating interest amongst trade members, each city from where Hindustan is published was featured. In addition to reproducing the front page of the launch issues of respective editions, it carried the socio-economic profiling of each city – vital information for any advertiser. To make the mailer more interesting and interactive, a quiz on Hindustan and Uttar Pradesh was carried out through the mailer. The communication was a huge success as the contest received innumerable responses.

The objective of further communicating the reach of 12 editions was split into a three stage activation. To make it more interesting and interactive, food was used as a medium of engagement. In the first phase a themed cake was created to represent Hindustan's reach in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. The cake cutting ceremony was held at twenty five top advertising agencies across Delhi, Mumbai and Bangalore. The second phase took place after an interval of fifteen days where a novel pizza was conceptualized with twelve slices, each representing one of the 12 editions of Hindustan. The final stage consisted of the distribution of customized chocolate bars where each piece was embossed with an edition name. This coordinated campaign was a huge success as it led to achieving great brand recall.

The campaign also communicated to advertisers Hindustan's emergence as a formidable newspaper reaching progressive and SEC A readers in the states of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand.

Awakening electorate, honouring talent

As the nation's demographics tilt towards the younger generation, it is becoming abundantly clear that the strength of Indian demography lies in its youth. Today's youth is not merely a passive observer; they demand engagement. They don't just want to read the news, they want to participate in the news; they want the news to be more than simple information disbursement. The newspaper must, in fact, be a source for their growth and progress. Hindustan has wholly embraced its responsibility as a partner in the advancement and development of its readers. The newspaper has consistently engaged its readers with a host of events and initiatives aimed at developing a well-informed and empowered populace, these include Aao Rajneeti Karein and Hindustan Pratibha Samman. In FY 12 the newspaper continued this grand tradition by undertaking landmark initiatives.

Aao Rajneeti Karein (Let's participate in politics)

Uttar Pradesh, despite its tremendous underlying potential, had witnessed a slowdown in its growth

THE IMPACT

- Between January 2011 and September 2011, 38 Lac and 1.5 Lac new voter registrations were recorded in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand respectively
- Registration campaign witnessed record turnout between October 2011 to November 2011 with 1.44 Crore persons in Uttar Pradesh and 5.21 Lac persons in Uttarakhand
- In Uttar Pradesh, poll percentage increased to 59.4% in the 2012 elections, from 45.96% recorded in the previous elections
- In Uttarakhand, poll percentage increased to 67.22% in 2012 elections from 63.72% recorded in the previous elections
- Turnout of women voters in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand increased by 18.36% and 9.39%, respectively, compared to the previous elections momentum in recent times. The state was scheduled to undergo assembly elections during the year under review. Hindustan believed that the elected government of the state ought to have a greater role in shaping the economic and social development of its populace and that people should actively participate in bringing about the change they desire. The consistent decline in the poll percentage over the last four assembly elections in the state suggested increasing voter apathy to the electoral process. The lack of electorate engagement was one of the likely reasons behind the state governments falling short on economic development and political accountability.

Given this context, Hindustan took it upon itself to champion the cause of democracy and revive interest and participation in the electoral process. It kicked off a seven month long, four phase electorate awareness campaign called Aao Rajneeti Karein. The first phase was aimed at driving people's participation in the voter registration process; Phase II generated dialogue and discussion around the attributes of an ideal candidate. In Phase III, Hindustan gave voice to the burning issues and aspirations of the electorate; and the final Phase IV was aimed at encouraging greater voter turnout and judicious casting of votes.

Hindustan conceived this campaign as a challenge to the murkiness surrounding politics. The campaign became a call-to-action for the electorate to become empowered and take a proactive part in the future of their states. Innovative deployment of the driving idea served to generate unprecedented impact. Through a combination of multiple touch-points external to the newspaper and a series of articles the campaign was able to engage a vast populace of readers and non-readers. Riding on increased visibility and tremendous goodwill and connect, Hindustan emerged as a thought leader in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. A thought leader

Pratibha Samman 2011

Hindustan's engagement with the youth led to the creation of the Pratibha Samman programme in June 2006. This annual programme is conducted with the dual objectives of recognising achievers and empowering them to study further by awarding scholarships.

During FY 12 the Company decided to increase the reach of this programme from 15 cities in FY 11 to 17 cities. Over one Lac students from schools in 17 cities of Delhi, UP, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand applied to participate in this year's Pratibha Samman. Large events were organized in these cities, witnessing the participation of over 15,000 students, parents and teachers. Approximately 10,000 students from 2,000 schools were felicitated for their achievements. Scholarships worth ₹41.25 Lac were awarded to 125 students, of whom 41 came from economically weaker sections of the society. This was a momentous year for the Pratibha Samman Scholarship where more students than ever were offered the chance to follow their passions.

that stood up for the citizens of the states and galvanized them into a powerful segment and acted as a channel for their opinion.

The campaign placed special attention on increasing the turnout of women and youth voters. For the first time in the history of these two states, a print media brand took responsibility for helping the cause of the Election Commission, to make the state assembly elections a fruitful exercise.

In the last leg of the voter registration phase, Hindustan intensified its efforts with a hard-hitting editorial series, a provocative advertising campaign and on-ground voter registration camps across the state. The campaign also took on a social media aspect featuring live-chats with eminent political personalities.

The campaign was recognized for its invaluable contributions from all corners:

>>> Hindustan was acknowledged at all levels of the Government for its role in the success of the Assembly Elections of Uttar Pradesh of 2012

>>> Hindustan was a special invitee to the Social Marketing workshops held by the Election Commission

>>> The campaign's principles were transplanted to two other states by the Election Commission.

Making rapid strides : Hindi speaking markets

The Hindi heartland is on the path of progress and Hindustan is its proud partner in growth. A vast majority in the northern regions of our country calls Hindi their mother tongue. Furthermore, the Hindi belt is seeing unprecedented levels of growth. The Hindi newspaper is perfectly positioned to, in turn, boost and benefit from this growth. By reaching out to a substantial number of people whose economic might is growing by leaps and bounds, Hindustan has the ability to shape opinions and influence behaviour.

The numbers tell the story. Between 2006-07 and 2009-10, the average real growth rate of GDP of Bihar, Uttarakhand and Jharkhand has been 12.05%, 12.85% and 8.55% respectively. These numbers are even more impressive when measured against the national average of 8.41%. Over the last two fiscal years, Bihar has emerged as the fastest growing state when measured according to GDP growth. Social indicators are also on the uptick – the recent assembly elections in UP recorded a remarkable voter turnout of 59.4%; the literacy rate in Bihar rose by 16.82% from the 2001 to 2011. In the same period, literacy rate in Uttar Pradesh has increased by 13.45% while urban-rural gap in literacy narrowed down by 7.76%. On already healthy literacy rate of 71.62% in 2001, Uttarakhand further improved it by 8.01% in 2011.

While English is seen as a language of aspiration, Hindi is the language of the masses. Many multinational brands are noticing the benefits of appealing to the Hindi heartland's growing consumer power. With multiple epicenters of the country's economic growth located in the Hindi heartland, we are sure to see a surge in prosperity and investment in the region.

As the second largest read Hindi daily in India, Hindustan is the preferred newspaper of 3.84 Crore readers (total readership) spanning across the five crucial states of Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Bihar and Jharkhand. Published from 18 cities, it is instrumental in empowering readers with purposeful and credible information that will in turn shape their futures. The Hindi speaking market is the way forward and is a vital segment of our growth strategy.

Management Discussion & Analysis

OVERVIEW OF ECONOMY

Global Economy

The global economy experienced uncertainties this year. The recent estimates of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) substantiate the slow down as the Global Economic Output growth rate came down to 3.9% in 2011 from 5.3% in 2010. Some of the key factors leading to the slowdown were high unemployment, declining growth prospects in developed countries, the sovereign debt crisis in Europe and high commodity prices which led to severe inflationary pressures in developing countries.

Going forward, inflationary pressures are expected to moderate in the near future as a good harvest may ease food prices. However, we believe that these tough times for global economy will continue for a while before the recovery starts. The same is substantiated by the IMF in their report, 'World Economic Outlook' released in April 2012, which projected the global GDP growth rate to fall further to 3.5% in 2012 before improving to 4.1% in 2013.

Indian Economy

The pressures of the global slowdown impacted the Indian Economy as well. While India continued to grow at a healthy rate in Financial Year 2011-12 (FY 12) compared to many other emerging economies, the real GDP growth rate was at its slowest in the last nine years.

In addition to external factors, a number of internal factors, such as slowdown in reform process due to lack of political consensus, failure to contain inflation within manageable limits, overall deceleration in construction and infrastructure development, sharp depreciation of the Indian Rupee against the US Dollar, and a monetary policy of high interest rates, adversely impacted the growth momentum of the Indian economy.

As India prepares to adopt its Twelfth Five-year plan for the years 2012 to 2017, focus continues to be on enabling faster, sustainable and more inclusive growth. The approach paper of the Planning Commission of India recognizes the importance of significant investments in the development of basic infrastructure. The Twelfth Five-year plan also aims to cover as many as 13 flagship development programmes across the rural and urban sectors, health & family welfare, women & child development, school education and literacy, among them. The Indian government has allocated a budget estimate of ₹1,88,573 Crore for these development initiatives. The government's focus is expected to yield positive results for the growth of the Indian economy.

OVERVIEW OF INDUSTRY

Indian Media & Entertainment Industry

As per FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Report 2012, the industry is estimated to have grown at a rate of 11.7% in Calendar Year (CY) 2011, from ₹652 billion in 2010 to ₹728 billion. The report predicts the industry will continue its growth trajectory at a healthy compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14.9% between CY 2011 and CY 2016 to reach ₹1,457 billion by CY 2016.

Industry Size (₹ in Billion)

Source: FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Report 2012

In CY 2011, advertising revenues grew by 13.1% to reach ₹300.1 billion, taking their contribution to 41.1% of the overall Media & Entertainment industry revenues. The print segment commanded a dominant 46% share and contributed ₹139.4 billion to the advertising revenue pie. Advertising revenues are expected to grow at a CAGR of 14.3% between CY 2011 and 2016 to reach ₹586 billion by CY 2016.

Print Segment

The Print segment continues to expand, aided by the rapid growth of non-English newspapers. The increasing dominance of regional languages, including Hindi, is pumping a new lease of life in the industry which has continued to grow at a much faster rate than that witnessed for the rest of the economy.

Indian Print Media Industry: Revenue Mix

Source: FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Report 2012

In CY 2011, the Indian print industry hit the ₹200 billion revenue landmark. It grew at 8.3% from ₹192.9 billion in 2010 to ₹208.8 billion in 2011. While its growth was impacted by a depressed macroeconomic environment, long term growth prospects continue to be promising, with an estimated CAGR of 9% between CY 2011 and 2016. In terms of the revenue composition, advertising revenues gained 2% to reach 67% of overall revenues while the contribution of circulation revenues decreased by 2 percentage points to 33% as compared to last year. Newspapers continued to maintain a dominant revenue share of 94% in 2011 while the remaining 6% was contributed by magazines.

ENGLISH	40	11
HINDI	30	35
VERNACULAR	30	54

Source: FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Report 2012

The long term growth prospects of the print industry continue to be promising with the sector projected to grow at a CAGR of 9.1% and reach ₹323.4 billion by 2016. The increase in advertising spends will continue to drive the overall growth of the industry. Projected to grow at a CAGR of 11.5% from CY 2011 to 2016, advertising spends are expected to contribute 74% to the total print revenue pie by 2016. Circulation revenues are estimated to grow at a CAGR of 3.6% from CY 2011 to 2016 supported by increased penetration in regional markets.

Additionally, as literacy levels, socio-economic profiles and penetration of regional newspapers continue to increase, advertising rates for regional language newspapers are expected to catch up with the advertising rates charged by their English counterparts, leading to exponentially faster growth for the regional segment compared to the English segment. According to the FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Report 2012, the regional segment is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 10.9% between CY 2011 and 2016 compared to the 6.3% predicted CAGR growth in the English segment for the same period.
