INDUSTRY OUTLOOK AND OPPORTUNITIES

Your Company's operating results are significantly influenced by macro-economic trends such as industrial production, capital spending on process and building automation, commercial and infrastructure construction, commodity prices and foreign exchange variations.

In 2012, all these macro trends started slowing down, impacting growth. During 2013 (the year under review), the Indian economy continued to slow down. Capital expenditure across various sectors continued to remain stagnant with continued uncertainty in the economy. Inflation continued to remain high leading to interest rate hikes by the Reserve Bank of India, further challenging access to funds for your Company's customers. Significant adverse movement in the USD-INR exchange rate during the third quarter of 2013 has had a large impact on your Company's operating results driving costs of imported items higher. Slowdown in the industrial and infrastructure sectors has now spread to the residential construction sector as well.

Economic and industry conditions impacting industries involved in environment, security and safety also have an impact on your Company's operations. Some of the important market conditions were:

- Delays in incremental investments in sectors critical for the Process Solutions business, including refining, terminals and pipelines, power generation, transmission and distribution, and oil exploration projects continued. Overall investment trends remained uncertain.
- Trends in the construction sector for both commercial and residential verticals continued to remain muted due to sluggish demand for real estate. These trends have impacted your Company's ECC business.
- For the S&C business, slowdown in manufacturing of machinery, capital goods and auto sectors meant significant shrinkage in available opportunities. However, the increasing level of automation in industrial and off-road automotive products is a positive trend for the business.
- The changing geographic mix of global business from the developed regions (North America and Western Europe) to other geographies (e.g., the Middle East, Eastern Europe) has sustained. This affects your Company's ability to derive competitive advantages from the cost benefit of sourcing services from India by Honeywell entities.

Honeywell Process Solutions (HPS):

HPS' offerings include distributed control systems, field instruments, programmable logic controllers, emergency shutdown systems (ESD), quality controls systems (QCS), process and business performance improvement solutions and various value added services. HPS business has won several prestigious projects as well as continuing its strong position in the key vertical of oil and natural gas.

2014 is likely to be a challenging year for HPS due to the prevailing economic and political environment, which may cause delays in policy regulation, lower growth of industrial production and continued competitive pressures in the market. Opportunities in the green field refining sector are declining and your Company will have fewer opportunities due to limited investments in petrochemicals/fertilizers and upgrade/expansion of oil terminals/storage projects in India. Your Company has a strong position in each of these areas. With a suite of products and solutions that cater to these sectors, we expect that from among available opportunities, we will win a fair share of the demand.

Honeywell Building Solutions (HBS):

HBS provides building solutions that are operationally intelligent and energy efficient. As part of its intelligent buildings suite, HBS provides building management systems (HVAC, lighting and utilities monitoring and control), fire detection and alarm systems, access control systems, video surveillance systems, integrated security systems and integrated building management systems leveraging Honeywell's Enterprise Buildings Integrator™, i.e., EBI™. As part of its operational efficiency promise, HBS provides after market services for all control systems as well as comprehensive utilities operations and maintenance services for all mechanical and electrical systems in buildings. As part of its energy efficiency promise, HBS provides energy management services, energy retrofits and energy performance contracts.

The strong results in this business continued during the year. Its track record in infrastructure, IT, datacenters and office space verticals has accelerated its presence in telecom, healthcare and pharmaceutical verticals in 2013. The highlights of the year were major order wins from many large customers from telecommunications and IT.

Environment and Combustion Control (ECC):

With softening of investments in the hospitality and commercial real estate sectors, the ECC business had a tough year to sustain revenue growth, which was marginal as compared to last year. Channel volumes, expansion of distribution footprint to tier-2 and tier-3 cities and key project wins in the building management system (BMS) business were the highlights of the year. The industrial combustion control business continued to see positive trends with revival of industrial demand in the last year. Solar water heaters launched in 2009 continued to report strong sales. Government policies for encouraging renewable energy solutions are helping in leveraging large commercial opportunities in this space. The investment made in the new solar water factory in Vadodara (Gujarat) in 2013 is likely to come on stream in the first half of 2014 – this will continue to help in growing this business.

In 2012, this business also identified synergistic opportunities for a shared management and go-to-market approach with another Honeywell India entity: Honeywell Electrical Devices & Systems (ED&S). Both these businesses target similar end markets in the commercial and residential construction vertical and, therefore, can benefit by sharing their channels and support infrastructure. We believe this will continue to provide your Company an opportunity to expand its reach to tier-3 and tier-4 cities.

Consolidation of the commercial construction and real estate segments, along with urbanization in tier-2 and tier-3 cities, will continue to drive growth of the diversified product portfolio for the business. We remain cautious about the overall liquidity situation and interest rates scenario for 2014, which may affect credit availability in the commercial construction segment, thereby affecting the volume of ECC's business.

Sensing and Control (S&C):

With a slowdown in core industrial sectors, especially automotive, construction equipment and off highway equipment, S&C revenue growth rates were lower as compared to historical trends. However, on the back of strong product offering, technology and superior services, S&C growth remained flat in these difficult market conditions for the year across all lines of business, viz. electromechanical, electro sensing, and test and measurement. During the year under review, S&C secured large program orders from key customers, which are expected to support revenue growth in 2014 and beyond.

Your Company will continue to remain focused on verticals such as industrial, transportation, military, aerospace and healthcare. Another important initiative is to expand the distribution network, especially for greater coverage of industrial customers. For this, the channel management team has been expanded through re-organization, which will help the business to focus on the distribution network. During the year there have been significant new business opportunities which resulted in major wins from customers in medical and transportation industries. These new business opportunities are expected to support growth in the coming years.

Exports:

Global Services (GS) is engaged with Honeywell entities globally in providing project engineering services, product design solutions, software engineering services, systems manufacturing and staging services. GS is in a unique position to add value in terms of driving overall productivity and cost competitiveness in the current economic conditions. Strong and highly mature deployment of the Honeywell Operating System (HOS), a system designed to drive operational and business
