MAKING MOTOR
INSURANCE
GO FURTHER!

Insurance has significantly evolved over time, a case in point being motor insurance that started as a basic third party motor insurance cover. The future, though lies in taking the leap to service differentiation. For a customer, a policy will offer far greater value, if the insurer assumes the responsibility of ensuring quality repair of the damaged vehicle instead of merely financing the said expenses. This to us is a manifestation of our comprehensive role as a risk manager, and not just a risk financier.

Similarly, assistance services such as emergency vehicle replacement or temporary accommodation will provide timely help to a customer whose vehicle has broken down. It will add tremendously to the customer's experience and value derived. This progressively transforms a motor insurance policy from being a mere risk mitigation tool to a comprehensive travel assistance offering.

Message from the Chairperson

Dear Shareholders,

FY2014 saw subdued growth trends in India amid persistently high inflation, even as there were improvements in key parameters such as the current account deficit. Economic growth is likely to improve gradually, though realising our full potential would require focused measures to revive the investment cycle and boost consumption.

The general insurance industry continued to grow in double digits in FY2014. The sector has the potential for sustained high growth given the low penetration of non-life insurance and increasing consumer awareness of the need for risk mitigation. This is even more relevant in the context of rapidly changing lifestyles and growing propensity for purchase of expensive personal assets. Consumer-friendly measures in health insurance regulations implemented last year, together with various awareness-enhancing initiatives by the regulator augur well for the future of this segment.

ICICI Lombard continued to strengthen its position in an industry which is getting increasingly competitive with the entry of several international as well as specialised players. The Company has consistently focused on its differentiator – a customer-centric value proposition. At the same time,
