Management Discussion and Analysis

Overview:

The year 2004-05 has witnessed strong economic growth in the global market. India recorded a 6.9 percent GDP Growth in year 2004-05 on the back of an impressive 8.5% growth in year 2003-04. Improved growth of the global as well as Indian economy translated into higher demand for Automobiles & Auto Components. The JAI was well positioned to leverage this strong demand, both in India as well as in international market. The internal challenge was to service this demand and counter the increase in prices of a key input i.e. steel. The Company's success in these areas is reflected in strong growth in sales, as well as profit during 2004-05. The highlights of the financial performance of the Company are:

- * The Company has achieved all time high turnover of Rs. 20954 lacs.
- * Export increased from Rs.131 lacs in previous year to Rs.1313 lacs in current year.
- * The company has achieved Net profit of Rs. 186 lacs against net loss of Rs. 150 lacs in previous year.

Industry Structure and Developments:

The automobile industry is an important segment of the economy and the fortunes of the automotive components sector are closely linked to performance of automobile sector. The automotive component industry manufactures components under six broad categories as per ACMA. Company's product falls under Suspension & Barking Parts which also includes brake assemblies, linings and shock absorbers.

The automotive ancillary industry caters to three broad categories of the market :

- * Automobile Manufacturers which comprises of approximately 25% total demand.
- * Replacement market which comprises approximately 65% of the total demand.
- * Export Market which comprises approximately 10% of total demand.

The Indian Auto Component Industry is on the threshold of a growth cycle, the industry registered a growth of around 16% in number in year 2004-2005 for all segments. Commercial Vehicle segment also performed well with a growth of approximate 22.97 per cent. The industry expects this growth to remain continue in coming years. Better quality at competitive prices has resulted growing exports of components. The total production of HCVs and MCVs increased by approximately 27 % with a total increase of 20% in over all motor vehicle segment during the year 2004-05 as shown herein below:

	2004-05	2003-04
M & HCVs	211,143	166,123
LCVs	138,890	108,917
UCVs	181,778	146325
Cars	960,505	782,562

SWOT Analysis :

Strengths <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Original equipment supplier to major automobile companies in domestic & export market. * Technology. * Better quality at low price. * Trained & skilled workforce. 	Weaknesses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Capacity constraints. * Sale of company product is depend on the growth of commercial vehicle market.
Opportunities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * India emerging as global outsourcing source. * Booming domestic Automobile Industry. 	Threats <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Competition with China auto component industry. * Total dependence upon Automobile Industry.

Risk & Concerns :

The fortune of the automotive components industry depend upon the performance of automobile industry. Demand swing in any of the segments of automotive industry particularly in Commercial Vehicle demand have an impact on auto ancillary demand.

Internal control systems and their adequacy:

Internal control measures and systems are established to ensure the correctness of the transactions and safeguarding of the assets. Internal Audit includes system audit, management audit and financial audit. The control systems set on place are checked & further supplemented by budgeting and MIS which provide for planned expenditure and information on disposal and acquisition of assets.

Human Resources:

Company considers Human Resource as valuable assets. The company provides a learning and initiative working environment and encourage excellence in performance. The total number of employees of the Company as on 31st March 2005 was approximately 550.
