Ever-growing Financial Sector

The financial sector in India is in a process of rapid transformation. The country's financial and monetary policies have sustained a stable growth rate. And financial reforms over the last few years have influenced the Indian economy to the core. This sector has in fact, exhibited stability over the last few years although several other markets were going through turmoil. With the opening up of the financial market, a variety of products and services have been introduced to suit the needs of the customer. Banks, capital market participants and insurers have developed a wide range of products and services as well to suit varied customer requirements.

2. Opportunities and Threats

2.1 Opportunities

Financial Sector is an ever green market. Increasing in incomes with potentially high penetration of both banking and Share Market products to increase the market size, will be the powerful drivers of growth in the sector.

Air Taxi Services Sector is not a much explored area for business in India. It has a lot of potential in India, which has not so far been tapped by big corporate, big hospitals and tourism. There are very few organization which offers special Charter Service to explore India for a group up to 5-6 persons to travel as per their schedule. There is always a shortage of Charters. This has never been marketed by any one in India till date. The increasing growth in world-class medical facilities provided by leading hospitals, there has emerged a great opportunity in this sector and with only a few players in the field, it further presents big potential for growth.

2.2 Threats

Regulatory decisions and changes: On the regulatory front, changes in policies by the regulatory authority may impact on the profitability of the Company. The Company may face competitive pressure from other palyers in the market, which may emerge due to the lucrative market in future.

Since the Air Charter industry is new in India, most people are unaware of its services and benefits. People might be uncertain of using this service due to high costs, and the very affluent are naturally of a limited number. Frequent changes in policies by regulatory authorities come as a hurdle for the Air Chartered Industry. Since a large number of Airways companies have come into the business, your company may face competitive pressures from existing and new players in the market.

So the Government must promote Air Chartered Services and thus help in the growth of this convenient and reliable mode of transportation. Government support is necessary if the Airways industry is to grow at an incredible rate. Rising fuel prices is another threat to the air charter industry. This along with a limited number of passengers will cause companies to increase their fare and service charges, thus negatively impacting the industry. So, government participation is important to take Indian air charter industry to a world-class level.

However, In spite of all the challenges the Air Chartered industry is facing, the future still looks very bright.

3. Segment-wise performance

During the Year 2010-11 Your Company operated in Air Chartered Services and Finance & Investments Segments:

Note: Company sold its Radio Taxi Division by way of Slump sale during the Financial Year 2009-10.

4. Outlook

The sector of finance is passing through a rapid phase of alteration. The sustenance of the growth of economy is the primary factor for the development of the India's financial sector. Taking into consideration of it your Company also expects a moderate growth. The Air Charter Business is also moving with pace simultaneously and we plan to expand our business in coming years.

5. Risks and Concerns

For a company to grow, necessary risks are always involved. Risks indicate progress, but they are never fixed. They may vary from the industry type to planning strategies and various other factors. Some of the threats concerning this company are:

We have some of the most experienced and the best work force in the air charter industry. Various training programmes and workshops are arranged for employees regularly to keep them updated and improve their skills.
