MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS AND REVIEW OF OPERATIONS AND FUTURE LAWOVERVIEW

India's transportation sector is large and diverse and it caters to the needs of 1.2 billion people. The Indian transportation & logistics sector is increasingly become attractive to foreign and domestic operators as well as strategic and financial investors. No marketing, manufacturing or project execution can succeed without transport and logistics support. Logistics has existed since the beginning of civilization. Raw material and finished products had always to be moved, though on a small scale. Things began changing with the advance in transportation. Population began moving from rural to urban areas and to business centres. No longer did people live near production centres, nor did production take place near residence centres. The geographical distance between the production point and consumption point increased and logistics gained importance.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE & DEVELOPMENT

The Transport and logistics sector in India has today become an area of priority. One prime reason for the same stems from the reason that years of high growth in the Indian economy have resulted in a significant rise in the volume of freight traffic moved. This large volume of traffic has provided for growth opportunities in all facets of logistics including transportation, warehousing, freight forwarding, express cargo delivery, container services, shipping services etc. The growth path has also meant that increase demand is being placed on the sector to provide the solutions required for supporting future growth. Going forward it will not be wrong to say that the strength of the logistics sector is likely to be one of the key determinants of the pace of future growth of the economy

The sector is growing at the rate of 10% per annum. Several factors are helping the growth of transport and logistics industry in India over the decade that includes changing tax system, rapid growth in industries such as automobile, pharmaceuticals, FMCG and retail. However, major sectors that are investing huge amounts in logistics industry are metal & mining and consumer durables. With increasing competition and cost, focus on outsourcing, entry of foreign players is having positive impact on the industry. Three major contributors for the growth of the logistic industry are: emergence of organized retail, increase in foreign trade and India becoming soon the manufacturing hub.

The emergence of new type crushing equipment will repackage crusher industry structure. Now the rock crusher equipments appear a rate phenomenon in the engineering work. In-depth analyzed in the technological innovation in those aspect craft, technology and construction process of rock crusher equipment, it is the only way our country mining industry development.

At the present, the machine crushing process is still the mainly method applied to industrial production. It is introduced that the plant availability is 30%. But the heat taken away by crushing material and air flow is 78.6%. So in order to using the energy input more effectively and search for energy saving ways, we must improve the work efficiency of rock crusher machines (like jaw crusher, hammer crusher).

At present, from the international environment, the rock crusher industry is also moving to the direction that ultrasonic broken, thermal broken, lamb electromagnetic broken, water and electricity effect broken and decompression broken. In the future, it will stand out and grasp the global in many rock crusher industry manufacturers which can truly master core technologies.

The Economic liberalization and the relaxed FDI norms have been a tremendous help in the growth of the sector. The introduction of Value Added Tax (VAT) and the proposed introduction of a singular Goods and Services Tax (GST) are expected to significantly reduce the number of warehouses manufacturers are required to maintain in different states, thereby resulting in a substantial increase in demand for integrated logistics solutions.

Infrastructure is one of the biggest challenges faced by the Indian logistics sector and has been a major deterrent to its growth. Infrastructural problems like bad road conditions, poor connectivity, inadequate air and sea port capacities and lack of development of modes of transports like railways and alternates like inland water transport and domestic aviation have been constant irritants. Due to the infrastructural bottlenecks costs per transaction in Indian logistics sector is very much high compared to those in the developed markets. Less economy of scale due to high fragmentation of industry, lack of skilled labor and manpower are also one of the major challenges for the logistic sector.

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

Significant opportunities exist across every segment of the Indian Logistics Industry and several leading international logistics companies have entered already the Indian market, both through green field set - ups and acquisitions. To date, due to lack of scale in both supply and demand in the more value added elements of logistics, entry has often been into segments that have been perceived as relatively unattractive (such as FTL trucking). However, this can offer geographic network benefits, along with the key customer relationships which have the potential to be up traded to more profitable services (such as warehousing).

The most important mode of transportation in India is Road, and this dominance arises from decades of poor supporting infrastructure development on the coastal, pipeline and air transportation side. Despite having one of the world's largest rail networks, India's share of cargo transported by rail has declined steadily from over 85 percent in the 1950s to around 30 percent presently. It is due to the poor quality of service, driven largely by the historic monopoly of the government in this vital mode of transportation, as well as massive investments in road highway projects over the past six decades which have enabled trucks to reach hitherto unconnected parts.

Despite this growth, the road transportation sector faces many challenges. The industry is highly fragmented, and with low entry barriers and it has seen significant commoditization leading to intense competition among truckers who find their realizations and margins continuing to be squeezed progressively.

Major threats impacting transportation:

1. Threat of New Entrants
2. Threat of substitutes
3. Bargaining power of consumers
4. Bargaining power of suppliers
5. Rivalry among competitors

SEGMENT WISE PERFORMANCE

Our Company deal in only one segment i.e. Transportation and logistics and therefore has no reportable segments.
