MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS REPORT {MDAR}

Industry Overview:

The food processing industry is one of the largest industries in India. It is ranked fifth in terms of production, consumption, export and expected growth. Food Processing Industry is widely recognized as a 'sunrise industry' in India having huge potential for uplifting agricultural economy, creation of large scale processed food manufacturing and food chain facilities, and the resultant generation of employment and export earnings. India has enormous growth potential from its current status of being the world's second largest food producer to be the world's number one producer.

Food Processing Industry is of enormous significance for India's development because of the vital linkages and synergies that it promotes between the two pillars of the economy, namely Industry and Agriculture. Food processing covers a spectrum of products from sub-sector comprising agriculture, horticulture, Plantation, animal husbandry and fisheries. Essentially, the food industry involves the commercial movement of food from field to fork.

Opportunities:

The liberalisation of the Indian economy and world trade as well as rising consumer prosperity has thrown up new opportunities for diversification in the food processing sector and opened up new avenues for growth. Demand for processed and convenience food is increasing constantly because of urbanisation, changing life-style and food habits of the people. Accordingly, the Indian consumers are being offered newer high quality food products made by using the latest state-of-the-art technology.

India has a strong agricultural production base with diverse agro-climatic conditions and arable land of 184 million hectares. It is one of the major food producers in the world and has abundant availability of wide variety of crops, fruits, vegetables, flowers, live-stock and seafood. As per the available information, it produces annually 90 million tonnes of milk (highest in the world); 150 million tonnes of fruits and vegetables (second largest); 485 million livestock (largest); 204 million tonnes of food grains (third largest); 6.3 million tonnes of fish (third largest); 489 million poultry and 45,200 million eggs. As a result, Indian food processing industry has become an attractive destination for investors the world over.

Threats:

But, the food processing sector still remains largely untapped because of high packing costs, cultural preference of the people for fresh food, seasonalities of raw materials, lack of adequate infrastructural facilities and quality control mechanism. As a result, there is a need to diversify the sector by fully harnessing its potentialities, providing greater incentives as well as creating conducive environment for more investments and exports.

Initiatives Taken By The Company:

The company is giving its best efforts for flourish its business and works. It has a strong perception that the business will grow in upcoming years.

Risks And Concerns:

The company like any other company is exposed to the risk factors relating to the business of the company and the industry in which it operates i.e. risk arising from within the industry itself (structural risk), risks arising from the expected future performance of the industry (growth risk) and risk arising from forces external to the industry.

The company manages these risks by adherence to best practices, internal control measures and risk management systems. Risk can be identified in the following factors:

a) Political Risk: The Country where our client is located may experience major political instability. Such instability could result in defaults on payments, confiscation of property, exchange transfer blockages etc.

IFM IMPEX GLOBAL LIMITED

b) Legal Risk: At domestic level, businesses are subject to a myriad of laws, regulations, and restrictions. But there are much more complexities in international business. International transactions are governed by unilateral measures, bilateral relationships, multilateral and regional agreements. The differences in law may have impact in such areas as taxation, currency dealings, property rights and employments practices.

c) Credit Risk: While doing business internationally, trading can seem complicated and risky. Besides political, legal and other risks, the most common problem businesses face is the risk in the transaction.

d) Exchange Rate Risk: In case of export business the transactions are primarily done in the foreign currency and the variations in the exchange rate between the Rupee and the foreign currency may adversely affect the results of our operations.

Financial performance:

During the year the company has not able to reach its target of generating business much efficiently, however your Company is continuously looking to generate some positive vibes by exploring new projects, contracts from different sectors of industries and committed to generating profits into the company.

Outlook:

Company's performance during the year was just satisfactory but we are of firm view that we will be able to grow more Business in future. However, the export business is not like domestic business which has lot of problems in internal factor as well as external factor. During the year, the Company has faced difficulties to bring the sales due to high level competition and lack of finance.

Internal control system and their adequacy:

The Company has adequate internal control systems to ensure monitoring and controlling against unauthorized use/ deposition of assets and ensuring that all transactions are authorized, recorded and reported correctly. The company ensures compliance with all the regulations applicable to the company.

The Audit Committee of the Board reviews Internal Control Systems of the company on periodical basis.

Human resources:

Your company recognizes the value of human resource, therefore, the human resource policies are framed in such fashion that they not only aim at achieving the organizational goal but also recognize, appreciate and develop the individual interest of the employees. The Human Resource Development policies of the company are so framed that it is in the best interest of the organization as well as employees of the company.

Cautionary Statement:

Statements in the Management Discussions and Analysis describing the Company's projections, estimates, expectations may be "forward looking statements" within the meaning of applicable laws and regulations. Actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied. Important factors that could make a difference to the Company's operations include economic conditions affecting demand/supply and price conditions in the domestic and overseas markets in which the Company operates, changes in Government regulations, tax laws, other statutes and other incidental factors.
