Total outgo on account of dividend for the financial year 2006-07 will be Rs. 93.90 lacs including dividend distribution tax. (previous year Rs. 138.43 lacs @ 12.5% i.e. Rs. 1.25 per equity share of Rs. 10/- each).

REVIEW OF OPERATION

The Company's turnover from operations for the year ended 31st March, 2007 is Rs. 26323.41 lacs (previous year Rs. 17555.15 lacs) showing an increase of 49.95%.

Profit after tax, from operations, for the year under review is Rs.664.54 lacs as against Rs. 495.26 lacs during the previous year (the total profit after tax during previous year was Rs. 3453.96 Lacs, inclusive of Rs. 2958.70 lacs income from investment division), thus recording an increase of 34.18%, inspite of higher income tax and deferred tax liabilities compared to the previous year.

The implementation of the expansion and modernisation scheme has led to higher volumes and cost reduction. The volume of merchant exports of cotton yarn and raw cotton has also grown during the year.

FUTURE PROSPECTS

During the year, the expansion cum modernisation scheme under the TUFs has been implemented. The production capacity stands increased from 26208 spindles to 55440 spindles. The same would give better economies of scale, greater flexibility in product mix which would enable the company to deal better with the developing market conditions and ensure sustained profitability in the face of ever increasing competition.

Benefits of expansion and modernisation programme are partially visible in F.Y. 2006-07 and the full effect of the same is expected to be seen in Company's performance in F.Y.2007-08.

Raw cotton is the single largest cost for the Company. The price and the quality of cotton have a huge bearing on the performance of the operations. As such, the company proposed to focus on this area through new initiatives such as contract farming, and exclusive arrangements with few selected ginning factories. It is expected that this will result in quantum improvement in the quality of the cotton procured and will also result in cost saving.

The vision statement of the Textile Industry envisages the growth in the total market size for textiles and garments from 52 billion USD in 2006 to 110 billion USD by March 2012, the terminal year of the Eleventh Five Year Plan. To achieve this target, the Vision Statement has, among other things, estimated that 29 million additional spindles would required – 20 million for capacity expansions and 9 million for modernisation. Therefore, the future scope for capacity expansion and modernisation is promising.

The Company has finalised a project for further growth with an estimated capital outlay of Rs.230 crore. The Company proposes to set up a new spinning unit (62,400 spindles) with a Yarn dyeing (3000 MT/year) and garment making unit (1.5 million pcs/year) spread over 33 acres of land at Five Star Industrial area at MIDC Kagal in district Kolhapur, Maharashtra.

The Company is predominantly export oriented and major portion of Company's turnover is from exports and as such the profitability to some extents depends on movement in exchange rate of various currencies. The sudden and sharp movement in exchange rate during March/April 2007 was unprecedented and despite the Company's hedging policy being in place, there is likely to be some impact on the sales realisations and profitability. The company is taking all possible steps to mitigate the adverse impact.

ALLOTMENT OF EQUITY SHARES TO PROMOTERS

9,78,000 equity shares were allotted to promoters of the company, on preferential basis, during the year on exercise of option for conversion of 9,78,000 equity linked shares warrants of Rs.10/- each at a premium of Rs.52.25 per equity share.

RESTRUCTURING OF COMPANY'S OPERATIONS

The scheme of arrangement between the Company and Nagreeka Capital & Infrastructure Ltd. (NCIL) (formerly Nagreeka Software Technologies

DIRECTORS' REPORT (Contd.)

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

BUSINESS SEGMENT - TEXTILE

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

The MFA agreement has ended and with it has ended the quota restrictions on the international trade of textile products. As a result of this the global trend now is for cotton textile production to move- to where the fibre is grown and - to Asia.

India is now set to become the 2nd largest producer of raw cotton in the world. As such India will become a stronger player in the global textile industry.

The cotton textile industry within the country is growing rapidly and is also getting consolidated. The fiscal policy regime has ensured a level playing field between the organized sector and the small sector. The de reserving of some sectors and the TUF scheme has ensured modernization, technological upgradation and high growth.

The increased usage of Bt seeds in cotton growing has brought about a jump in the yield per hectare of cotton. As such, India is achieving record output of cotton for the last 2 years and a new landmark of 300 lac bales is expected to be reached in the coming crop year i.e.2007-08. The Technology Mission on Cotton run by the Government has led to the modernization of the ginning factories. Hence, now more cotton of better quality is available in the country.

The fast economic growth has increased the level of disposable income in the hands of a large section of the population. This increased spending power is also spent on higher purchase of clothing and other textile articles. Also, the increase in income levels mean more people use cotton textiles by choice. Further, the growth of organized retail - malls, big format stores, super markets etc will also boost the consumption and demand for textiles. This huge growth in the volumes of clothing, apparel and home textiles etc. will create a pull of demand for the precedent segments such as processing, weaving and spinning.

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

The removal of quotas and the good pace of economic growth in the various countries that form the market for textiles presents a bigger market for textile producing countries like India. The growth of demand for clothing etc within the country acts as additional demand and also provides stability to the growth. The big jump in the cotton crop provides ample availability of cotton and also provides relative advantage to domestic producers. The extension of the TUF and the fiscal regime provide continuity and further scope to be competitive.

In the international market, the strength of the Indian Rupee and the low cost of production of other Asian and South Asian countries are formidable factors for the industry.

The rising fuel costs, the shortage and high cost of power are also worrisome. The overall higher level of activity in the economy has provided better choices to the man power and this is increasing the costs while reducing the availability simultaneously.

RISK & CONCERNS

The increasing strength of the Rupee against the Dollar and volatility in foreign exchange rates.

Intensification of international competition as a result of liberalization of import rules and also tariff concessions under SAFTA etc.

The poor infrastructure, costly and insufficient supply of power, shortage of skilled labour.

RBI's recent monetary policies have resulted in unprecedented increase in the rate of interest on the company borrowings from banks and financial institutions. Since all of the company's loans are linked to bank's prime lending rates, increase in the interest rates leaves an element of uncertainty in interest cost.

ANNEXURE "B" TO DIRECTORS' REPORT (Contd.)
