2. REVIEW OF OPERATION:

During the year under review spinning mills were particularly affected by very high cotton prices and low yarn realization coupled with recession in demand for yarn. Exports of yarn were also affected due to events after September 11, 2001 leading to severe recession in international market. Our Company had to produce more of carded yarns and resulting in lesser realization per kilo. While the cost of Production substantially increased due to high cotton prices the selling prices were under pressure. The company also had to write off outstanding debts, which in the opinion of the Board were long outstanding and were considered not recoverable.

Consequently, there has been substantial decrease in the total turnover and large losses during the year under review. The company has taken steps to reduce over all costs increase in productivity and efficiency. However, through out the year adverse market conditions and high cost persisted. It may also be noted that during the year under review many spinning mills had to close down.

The Company has submitted Restructuring plans to the Banks and ICICI and by and large Banks have approved of the Restructuring plan. Having passed through very difficult market conditions and high cotton prices, demand for cotton yarn has picked up. In the current year the cotton prices are expected to be reasonable. The Company expects improved performance in terms of sales and profitability. Constant emphasis is being placed to maintain consistent quality and services to the clients.
