MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Economy Overview

The Indian Economy is currently going through a challenging phase as GDP growth, at around 5%, slowed down to nearly a decade low in 2012-13. External and domestic factors have played a part in this downfall. The positive aspects such as Inflation coming down and decent recovery of stock market have been obscured by the overwhelming impact of depletion in investment levels, high level of deficit in current account and depreciation of Rupee.

Notwithstanding the weak economy, flow of resources to the commercial sector was maintained through increased liquidity pursuant to cumulative reduction in Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR) by 75 basis points and in Statutory Liquidity Ratio (SLR) by 100 basis points besides through Open Market Operations by RBI. These measures, though not adequate, lent support to sustain the economic activity and GDP.

Measures taken to reduce fiscal deficit in the form of reduction in subsidies in oil and fertilizers are likely to take some more time to facilitate achievement of desired objective. These measures continued in a sustained manner coupled with certain other reforms to take care of the macro economic imbalances additionally supported by normal monsoon will determine the pace of recovery. Though the long-term prospects of the economy look promising, we can only be cautiously optimistic in the short to medium term.

BALANCE OF PAYMENT POSITION

With foreign trade from India taking place to almost all the countries in the world, any uncertainty or weak economic situation in any other part of the world tends to adversely affect the Indian economy more than ever before. Reduced import demand from emerging markets along with advanced countries also contributes to trade imbalance resulting in India's increased Current Account Deficit (CAD) which was at 6.7% of GDP around December 2012. Developments in the domestic tax regime also had a negative impact on foreign investment inflows through Institutional and direct route.

Recent announcement of export promotion schemes like interest subvention, broadening scope of Focus Market Scheme and Focus Product Scheme are likely to prop up export earnings provided global economic activity also picks up. Proposals introduced for simplified investment process may also prop up foreign investment flows. These measures are expected to arrest the rise in CAD.

OPPORTUNITIES

During the year 2012-13, reflecting economic slow-down, there was steep drop in sales of Medium and Heavy Commercial Vehicles (M&HCV) by as much as 23%, i.e. from 3.49 lakh units in 2011-12 to 2.68 lakh units in 2012-13. The fall in sales of new vehicles naturally favourably impacts the demand for pre-owned commercial vehicles. Also the expected normal monsoon in the current year is likely to increase the movement of agricultural products and that of agro based industries.

THREATS

Ever increasing rise in price of fuel, maintenance costs and food inflation pose a great challenge to vehicle operators in the matter of conserving resources. Further, the restrictions imposed on mining on account of environmental counts may reduce the earning potential for the transport operators engaged in this segment.

The proposed regulatory changes from RBI pursuant to Usha Thorat Committee recommendations without adequate tax advantage akin to banks may adversely impact the operations of NBFCs.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The outlook for the economy is not bright as the economic recovery is likely to be slow. The agricultural sector is likely to perform creditably well for the current year. With the near normal monsoon in the forthcoming season, the output of food and other cash crops are expected to exceed the target. Hence the growth in agricultural sector coupled with growth in services sector will aid the growth of GDP.

The business outlook of NBFC sector will be promising as Road Transport Sector to which NBFC's like our company caters to will play an increased role in helping agricultural and other sectors.
