OPERATION

As reported last year, the industry is facing severe competition. Ceramic Crockery industry and to some extent Enamel Cookware industry has also faced competition from imports. They have now switched over a part of their requirement for transfer sheets, which they have been purchasing in the past from abroad, to the Indian industry. Thus your company has benefitted by a 40% increase, the number of sheets produced this year being 3.11 lacs as against 2.22 lacs last year. Your directors assume that this trend will continue.

MARKET AND FUTURE PROSPECTS

As reported last year, while your Company is looking for further improvement and consolidation, it is also likely to face bad debts, as many ceramic crockery manufacturing units are facing near closure situations. This may definitely lead into some bad debts as the sale of transfer is mostly on credit basis. Your Company has had to write off two such items amounting to Rs. 3.03 lacs as bad debts during the year. From the present conditions, it looks that this industry can possibly revive and face the global competition.
