2. FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE

Your Company's sales have been growing year after year at a rate faster than the growth of the bearing industry in India. For the year 2004, we had a sales growth of 21% (2003: 9.2%). It was mainly in the imported bearings and Aftermarket. OEM and Railways recorded a reasonable growth. Exports of the Company were Rs. 424.7 million (2003: Rs. 385.0 million).

Gross Operating Profit increased by 19.7%(2003 : 4.1%). Profit Before Tax (PBT) was higher by 40.1% (2003: 22.0%) and Profit After Tax (PAT) was higher by 33.3% (2003: 17.1%).

During the year, there was intense competitive pressure on prices and margins. There was substantial increase in steel prices also. The Company could achieve its profitability with emphasis on the Aftermarket, imported bearings business and focussed product mix planning. The intensive cost reduction efforts continued during the year. The production of bearings went up by 6.4% over the last year (2003: 3.8%).

During the year FAG Germany conducted a Total Quality Management audit covering QS 9000, ISO TS 16949 and Continuous Improvement Process. All the audits were very successful. TÜV Surveillance Audits for TS 16949 (2002 version) and ISO 14001 were also successful.

3. DIVIDEND

Your Directors recommend for your approval dividend for the year ended December 31, 2004 at the rate of Rs. 3.50 (2003: Rs. 4.50) per equity share amounting to Rs. 58.2 million (2003: Rs. 74.8 million).

The Company will pay income tax on Dividend as per the provisions of the Income-Tax Act.

Significant changes in the Indian market economy has created an upsurge in the demand for bearings in terms of volume and better quality. This has resulted in the Company's plant capacity being utilised to nearly total levels. Therefore, in order to retain and increase FAG India's business share with premier customers, it is imperative that we make substantial investments in the plant and machinery and quality equipments. The Company needs to conserve its cash resources and reduce the dividend outgo.

4. FAG ROLLER BEARINGS PVT. LTD.

During the year, 49% shareholding of the Chadha family members was acquired by INA Bearings India Pvt.Limited.

All the plant & machinery items and inventories, tools etc. were shifted from Pune to Vadodara. The production is planned to start by June 2005. The Company achieved a sale of Rs. 99.7million (2003: Rs.69.2 million).

5. FINANCE

By now, your Company has become a zero-debt entity. During the year, with tight controls on inventories and receivables and alert financial management, the capital employed was reduced. No long term loan was taken and credit facilities from the banks for working capital were sparingly utilised. Near the end of the year 2004, the Company had prepaid all the fixed deposits accepted from the public (including employees and shareholders) with interest due upto December 31, 2004. There was no matured and unclaimed deposit at the year end.

6. MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS(a) Industry structure and developments

Indian Bearing market size is estimated at Rs. 25 billion. Approximately one third of this demand is met through imports and the balance is met through indigenous products. The sales of the organised bearing industry in India are estimated at Rs. 16.0 billion. The bearing industry experienced a significant growth of 20% during the year 2004. FAG India has continued its growth in line with the industry. FAG India's share in the total market is around 11%.

The fortunes of the bearing industry in India are linked to the growth of the automotive industry. 2004 was a record year for the automotive industry; the growth was over 17%. The passenger cars and commercial vehicle industry had the fastest growth (about 30%). The sales growth of two wheeler industries especially motorcycle, (which had been growing at a faster pace for the past few years) stabilized at around 14-15% during the year. The tractor industry that faced one of the worst years in recent times is clearly on a revival path posting around 28% growth from a lower base of last year. The demand from Railways - another important market segment - remained flat during the year.

OEM industries, such as two-wheeler, are facing price competition in their own markets and continue to exert price pressure on the local bearing suppliers. In face of the accelerated demand from the automotive industry, the bearing industry capacity available in the country is not aligned with the present demand trend, generating a scope for expansion.

(b) Opportunities and threats

Indian economy seems to grow at 7% supported by a smart growth in manufacturing and services sectors. Demand outlook for the year 2005 is quite positive.

The industry has to be on guard against the menace of counterfeit (i.e. spurious bearings) which has increased over the last few years, inspite of serious efforts to check it.

(c) Segmentwise performance

The business of the Company falls under a single segment i.e. "Ball/Roller Bearings and related components" for the purpose of Accounting Standard AS-17.

FAG Bearings India Limited(d) Outlook

The continued growth in the automobile sector and the improving mood in the manufacturing sector will provide growth to the bearing industry. Indications of improvement in the economy are visible.

The Company expects to improve its position in the market by focusing on technologically advanced products and more profitable products/market segments.

The Company will continue to work in the areas of higher productivity, better efficiency and cost reductions in order to control costs.

(e) Risk and concerns

While the overall demand outlook for the year 2005 remains good, the Company expects that there will be pressure on its margins on account of intense competition and steel price rise in the market.

Customs duty on imports is expected to be reduced by another 5% during the year 2005. Cheap imports especially from China during the year, remain a threat to the local bearing industry.

The rising raw material cost (steel) has been a nagging worry for the industry. It may not be possible for the Company to recover the increase in material cost entirely from the customers.

(f) Internal control system

Internal audit and other controls have been found to be adequate. These are reviewed periodically by the Audit Committee. The Internal Audit team from FAG, Germany audited the Company during the year and found the performance satisfactory.

(g) Developments in human resources and industrial relations

The total number of employees at the year end was 1031 (2003:1053). Information as per Section 217 (2A) of the Companies Act, 1956 read with the Companies (Particular of Employees) Rules, 1975 forms part of this Report. The Managing Director is the only employee covered by these Rules and details of his remuneration are covered in this Annual Report.

The settlement with Workers Union and Staff Association, valid for three years, expired on March 31, 2004. As reported to you last year, now there is a single body after the merger of Workers' Union and Staff Association. The leadership dispute of the new body is subjudice before the Industrial Court No. 2, Vadodara. Therefore, the new settlement may be signed with the new body after the Court decision. The leadership issue has not disturbed the harmony between the management and the workers. The Company continued to have cordial relations with all the employees.

7. DIRECTORS

Your Directors Mr. F. Huber and Mr. G. Morber retire by rotation and, being eligible, offer themselves for reappointment.

Mr. H. J. Goslar was appointed as an additional director on February 3, 2005 and seeks his appointment at the General meeting.

Mr. Bernhard Steinruecke was appointed as an additional director in March, 2005 and seeks his appointment at the General meeting.
