(c) SHIPPING BUSINESS & FUTURE PROSPECTS

The period under consideration has been a rather dull period for the entire industry as a whole. While charter markets saw steep declines, freights too followed. However, bunker costs which constitute an important portion of the operating cost of any shipping company displayed a steep incline to the extent of about 80% over last year. This led to the operating costs increasing manifold, thereby putting pressures on the bottom line.

The state of the industry however provided your Company with an opportunity in the form of lower cost of acquisition. Your Company has taken on lease two new vessels, the Orient Spirit and the Orient Strength.

With the decline in freights, it was considered wise to charter out tonnage into the market and concentrate on fresh areas of feederage. Your Company has therefore attempted to charter out its tonnage so as to obtain assured returns. Your Company however, continues its focus as a common carrier feeder operator.

One such area is the coastal transshipment service connecting two or more Indian Ports. Your Company once again commenced a service between the ports of Kandla and JNPT and this service has now become a premier feeder service not only providing revenue streams to your Company but also providing precious saving in foreign exchange to the nation. Your Company currently has employed one vessel on this service. On the anvil are at least two more such coastal service.

Your Company also intends to explore the possibility of participating in the domestic movement of cargo and is in the process of completing a study on the same. Upon completion of such a study, the Company shall take a decision on the commencement of such domestic service.

(d) FIXED DEPOSIT

The Company has not taken any fixed deposit from the public during the year under consideration.

(e) GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

As the Government of India has supported the movement of feeder traffic between two Indian ports, the Company has been able to successfully commence and run a Coastal Feeder Service. We would like to place on record our heartfelt thanks to the concerned officials of the Government of India.

The Shipping Industry has requested for various other steps, which will enhance the growth of shipping in India. We hope the Government of India will take necessary steps in this respect.

Meanwhile, our demand to declare shipping as an Infrastructure Industry continues.

(f) CONSERVATION OF ENERGY, TECHNOLOGY ABSORPTION AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE EARNINGS AND OUTGOINGS

The information required under rule 2 of the Companies (Disclosures of particulars in the Report of the Board of Directors) Rules, 1988 relating to the Conservation of Energy and Technology Absorption, is not given since the Company is not engaged in any manufacturing activity. However, the details of Foreign Exchange earnings and outflow are as under:-
