The country is witnessing a retail boom and the Indian consumers who are well travelled and informed, demand international standards in products at the right price and the right ambience for making their purchases. This has led to an exponential growth of organized retailing in India.

India is emerging as a major footwear market with the rising awareness of fashion in the country especially amongst the youth who have the access to the latest trends in the western countries with continuous updates available via electronic means TV, Internet, radio, print media etc.

The main drivers for the growth in the footwear market are the growth in income level, increasing fashion consciousness among the consumers, increasing organised retail space, availability of skilled manpower and abundant raw materials.
