MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Macroeconomic Overview.

Macroeconomic fundamentals continued to inspire confidence and the investment climate was full of optimism during 2007-08. Buoyant growth of government revenues made it possible to maintain fiscal consolidation. The pace of economic improvement continued considerably during the last year. However, there are genuine concerns on the inflation front which has crossed 11% point during current year. The opening of the economy and continuous reduction in tariff rates, besides promoting competitiveness and growth, have also provided an impetus to convergence of inflation rates.

The growing influence of global developments on the Indian economy was manifest in the surge in capital inflows in 2007-08, a phenomenon observed earlier in other emerging market economies. This is a natural concomitant of the robust macroeconomic fundamentals like high growth, relative stability in prices, healthy financial sector and high returns on investment.

Growth in world trade volume of goods and services decelerated from 9.2 percent in 2006 to 6.6 per cent in 2007 and is projected to remain around the same levels in 2008. The first eight months of the current fiscal, till November 2007, witnessed a moderate slowdown in the growth of the industrial sector. The slowdown has mainly been on account of the manufacturing sector

India's export during April-December, 2007 reached at the level of USD 111.1 billion, thereby again registered growth of 20% for continuous six years. After appreciating against major convertible currencies, particularly the US dollar, during first three quarters the rupee started depreciating during last quarter of 2007-08. This is good sign for exporters of the country.

Industry Structure and Developments

Leather products, which contribute significantly to employment generation and export earnings, registered an impressive 12.2 per cent growth during April-November 2007. The Western type leather footwear grew at 21.1 per cent, while the Indian type leather footwear and finished leather had visibly lower growth during April-November 2007, as per the IIP production data. The (undeflated) value of production of leather garments grew close to 30 percent during the period, while the production of shoe uppers grew at 12.4 per cent.

Opportunities and Threats

The Inter-Ministerial Group constituted to evolve a comprehensive strategy for the development of the leather sector assessed that India has the potential to step up its leather exports from US$ 2.7 billion in 2006-07 to US$ 7 billion in 2011-12, with footwear accounting for the largest growth. The Indian leather industry is also more comfortable in competition with China and Vietnam due to anti-dumping duty introduced by European Commission on leather footwear.

At the same time, the Eleventh Five Year Plan document has identified inadequate raw material base, low capacities and outmoded technologies of tanneries, constraints faced by small units in complying with rigorous environmental standards, shortage of skilled and semi-skilled workforce, inability of the industry to meet international requirements of quantity and variety and inadequate transport infrastructure as challenges to be overcome by the industry.

The major threat to the Indian industry and to your Company is posed by the aggressive increase of the production capacities by the Chinese and Vietnamese manufacturers, who with their large infrastructure have a cost advantage. Your Company is handling this threat with value additions in design and developments.

LEGACY OF EXCELLENCE

Superhouse Limited

The stringent pollution regulations may also cause challenges to the leather industry.

Segment-wise Performance :-

The segment-wise performance of the company during the year is as under :-

Segments	Turnover
a. Leather and Leather Products	Rs. 281.91 Crores (previous year Rs. 267.90 crore)
b. Textile Garments	Rs. 32.84 Crores (previous year Rs. 28.92 crore)

Outlook

During 2007-08 the leather industry has registered positive growth, inspite of high appreciation in the value of rupee. As per the official publication of DGCI&S, export of leather and leather products for the year 2007-08 stands at US$ 3477.52 million as against the export during previous year of US$ 3059.43 million. With the appreciation in the value of foreign currencies, particularly Euro and Dollar, it is expected that the industry will register impressive growth during the year. The company has demand of its products from all over the world.

Risk and Concerns

The major raw material for leather industry is raw hide/skins. Leather is a natural product and its prices and availability are changing from time to time. The company is having vast experience in sourcing the raw materials for its tanneries and leather products divisions from India and outside which help in keeping the prices and availability under control. The output of raw hides/skins are also depend upon person skill of the purchasers and technicians, which are being properly taken care-off by the experienced personnel of the company. The substantial revenue of the company is being generated in foreign exchange. The adverse foreign exchange rates may effect the profitability of the company. The experienced professional of the company are keeping close watch over movement in currency rates.

Cautionary Statement

Statement in the Management Discussion and Analysis describing the Company's objectives, projections, estimates, expectation or prediction may be 'forward-looking statement' within the meaning of applicable securities laws and regulations. Further, the performance of the company is also dependent on domestic and global economic conditions, government and regulatory policies on which company is not having any control.
