Overview

The Indian Economy has been observing reduction in growth, high inflation and a high current account deficit and high fiscal deficit.

These all macro factors which may impact growth in the coming years.

The management has also evaluated the impact of these factors on the Indian Economy and in turn on the performance of the company.

The management due to its persistent efforts has managed to change slowly the product mix and concentrate the company's focus more on value added products.

Industry Structure and Development

The financial year 2012-13 was a challenging one for the company in terms of both productivity and growth in sales.

Though the margins were under pressure, the company managed to show a reasonable growth in top line.

The Company registered increase in sale by 35.48% during the year under review.

Despite falling prices and intense competition from imported as well as low cost producers, your Company was able to sustain its performance due to introduction of new products and improvement in product efficiency.

Opportunities, Threats, Risks, Concern & Future Outlook

There is considerable scope for growth of tarpaulin and Geosynthetics industry because of increased usage of the same in day-to-day life. However competition from importers and unorganized sector has been increasing day by day. Therefore the Indian industry will have to really strive hard to sustain against global competition as well as competition from unorganized markets. The steep competition has led to an impact on profitability.

Segment Wise Performance

As such the Company deals only in one segment – Tarpaulin and Woven Fabrics, hence there is no specific differential information pertaining to this section.

Financial Performance

The sales for the year ended 31st March 2013 were Rs.4160.20 Lacs as compared to Rs.3063.12 Lacs for the previous year. The Profit after Depreciation & Taxation was Rs.70.81 Lacs and after exceptional items Rs.1481.46 for the year under review as compared to Rs.82.86 Lacs for the previous year.

Internal Control Systems and Their Adequacy

The Company has adequate Internal control systems commensurate with its size and operations to ensure orderly and efficient conduct of business while safeguarding the assets, quality, safety, procurements, finance and accounts and reducing and detecting error.

The Company also has appointed an external firm of Chartered Accountants to supplement the efficient Internal Audit.

Material Development in Human Resources and Industrial Relations Front

The Company routinely undertakes employee development activities keeping in mind the professional requirements of the employees as well as the growth of the Company.

The Industrial Relations were cordial throughout the year with no incidence of strike or lockouts.
