The company has been carrying on the business of International Telecommunication networks, systems and services. It also desires to contest along with the other bidders for the licences in respect of various telecommunication services either by acquiring itself or through a wholly or partly owned subsidiary or through a joint venture company. The company feels it to be advisable to amend the object clause as proposed in order to be in readiness to take on the challenges of emerging liberalised competitive telecom environment in the country. The company can carry on these new businesses which under existing circumstances may conveniently or advantageously be combined with the existing business of the Company. The consequential amendments in the other clauses of the Memorandum of Association of the Company also enable it to carry on its business more economically or more efficiently. Proposed amendments will enable the company to attain its main objects by new or improved means. The proposed amendments of the object clause of the Memorandum of Association of the Company thus satisfy the tests laid down under Section 17(1) of the Companies Act, 1956.

The Resolution is recommended for the approval of the members.

In respect of Item No. 12

In recent years, rapid technological improvement has enabled the company to launch a variety of specialised services such as dedicated high speed leased lines, packet switched data transmission services, E-Mail, electronic data interchange, Video conferencing and other value added services that typically involve transmission of data or video rather than voice traffic. The company's expansion into these areas is motivated by a desire to benefit from the migration of traffic to these modes and from the probable higher margins that can be earned on these value added services. The company expects this trend of rising demand to continue for these new services keeping in pace with the rapidly growing Indian Economy.

With the deregulation of value added services, especially the Internet related services expected very soon, it is imperative to provide a level playing field to all players, whether in the Private or Public sector, in order to attract and sustain private capital in value added telecom services. In this scenario, the
