CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Shareholders

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to our Company's 45th Annual General Meeting.

After four relatively depressed years marked by a slowdown in investments in most of the sectors we serve, early signs of an upturn are now visible. Starting in the second half of FY 2016, there has been a significant increase in domestic bidding opportunities. This however is yet to translate into orders, in part because these opportunities are driven by public investment and are therefore accompanied by a longer gestation, and partly because of increased intensity of competition. Moreover private investment has still not picked up and most of the public investment enquiries we are receiving are largely relating to just two sectors, viz. the Electrical and the Water Sectors. Clearly there is still much way to go for a sustained improvement.

Nevertheless I am gratified to see that the sense of the following paragraph from my message last year has been, to an extent, validated

The views of pundits seem to be that with the fiscal deficit getting contained and current account deficit being in control, the ground work for fresh investment has to a great extent been laid. There seems to be signs of public investments picking up and private sector investment is also soon expected to pick up.

Our operating results for FY 2016 have shown a distinct improvement and this trend is expected to continue.

This improvement is facilitated not only by upwards business trends but also the organisational strengthening we have undertaken during the recent lean years.

While for the time being, the Power and Industrial sectors continue to be depressed, some of the fundamental constraints have been ironed out. The next wave of investment in the Power sector may not be far away and will be driven by the need to replace older polluting capacity which has outlived its life and is inconsistent with environmental obligations, by newer larger sized units adopting the latest technologies. When this happens the current operating improvements should get a significant further impetus.

Thank You

Avinash C Gupta
Chairman and Managing Director
