FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENT

In this Annual Report, we have disclosed forward looking information to enable investors to comprehend our prospects and take investment decisions. This report and other statements – written and oral – that we periodically make contain forward looking statements that set out anticipated results based on the management’s plans and assumptions. We have tried wherever possible to identify such statements by using words such as ‘anticipate’, ‘estimate’, ‘expects’, ‘projects’, ‘intends’, ‘plans’, ‘believes’, and words of similar substance in connection with any discussion of future performance. We cannot guarantee that these forward looking statements will be realised, although we believe we have been prudent in our assumptions. The achievements of results are subject to risks, uncertainties and even inaccurate assumptions. Should known or unknown risks or uncertainties materialise, or should underlying assumptions prove inaccurate, actual results could vary materially from those anticipated, estimated or projected. Readers should bear this in mind. We undertake no obligation to publicly update any forward looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Chairperson's Message

Dear Shareholders,

Following prolonged challenges, India's sugar sector is gradually moving towards a phase of balanced and sustainable growth. Sugar demand is marginally exceeding supply for the first time in five years in India. Such a scenario will bolster realisations and benefit the industry as a whole. Changes in India's sugar industry scenario has a major impact on the world, as India continues to be one of the largest global producers and consumers.

Globally, the production of sugar is expected to touch 169.371 million tonnes in 2015-16, a decline of 1.969 million tonnes or 1.15% from 2014-15. This was primarily due to reductions in Brazil, India, the European Union and Ukraine. During the year, sugar prices fluctuated in the global market owing to multiple factors. The effect of El Nino caused inadequate rainfall; and even there was drought in sugar producing countries such as South Africa, India, Thailand and Australia. Excessive rain in Brazil caused harvest problems and reduced sugar content in cane. A change in Brazilian fuel tax policy caused by increased duty to petrol has stimulated greater demand for cheaper bioethanol for the nation's flex-fuel fleet. This in turn averted the supply from sugar exports and increased the price.

In India, the world's second largest sugar producer, sugar production during the year was 237 lac tonnes, lower by 11 lac tonnes than the previous fiscal. The trend indicates a shorter tail of crushing and lower sugar production this year vis-à-vis the preceding sugar season. The decline in production was primarily driven by a severe drought in the largest sugar-producing state, Maharashtra, which impacted the availability of sugarcane. In Karnataka, weaker monsoons are expected to adversely impact sugar production, while production is expected to marginally increase in Tamil Nadu.

The Government has supported sugar mills by providing interest-free loans to clear cane dues and mandating compulsory exports to tackle the high sugar stocks in the domestic market. Besides, cash subsidy from UP and Bihar governments have positively impacted the industry.

Going forward, we expect further improvement in domestic sugar realisations. It is encouraging to note that sugar demand is likely to be robust as domestic food and beverages sector continues to grow in India

Prices also firmed in India, where the expectation of sizeable exports and a consequential drop in domestic sugar stocks lent support to the market. The current level of sugar pricing is at a balanced position and larger units are expected to do well, going forward.

The prices of by-products such as bagasse and molasses remain remunerative, driven by healthy demand from the consuming sectors such as power, paper and alcohol. Moreover, ethanol is gaining prominence as fuel substitute with a renewed focus on using bio-fuels and green energy to reduce emissions. To encourage the use of bio-fuels in India, the Government has proposed an enhancement of ethanol blending to 10% from the current 5% and fixing more remunerative prices. It is one of the areas which has the potential of improving the fundamentals of the sugar sector if pursued seriously by the Government.

OUR PERFORMANCE

After few years of consistent challenges, the Company finally witnessed improvement during the year. Our sugar segment registered a production of 23.78 lac quintals during the sugar season 2015- 16, as against 23.04 lac quintals during 2014-15. Our revenue from operations (Gross) marginally decreased from 88,618.97 lacs and stood at 87,697.16 lacs. However, the net profit grew to 1,119.27 lacs against a loss of (5,537.13 lacs) the previous year.

We are restructuring our two businesses to bring in fiscal flexibility and facilitate the operational efficiency in order to realign our business whereby businesses of the Company will be housed geographically in separate new entities for its sugar, investment and tea undertakings. The UP unit will be under Avadh Sugar & Energy Limited and Bihar unit will be under Magadh Sugar & Energy Limited. The restructuring process is awaiting regulatory approvals and the entire process is expected to be completed by September-October 2016.

Going forward, we expect further improvement in domestic sugar realisations. It is encouraging to note that sugar demand is likely to be robust as domestic food and beverages sector continues to grow in India. India's rapid economic growth and evolving consumer aspirations and spending patterns will drive the sector's next level of growth.

We believe, the sugar industry will gradually perform better, and we seek the support of state governments in evolving a balanced and transparent cane pricing mechanism and free movement of molasses.

We, as a company, will emphasise on strengthening our internal efficiencies to make the most of the emerging optimism in the sector. I expect the cooperation and support of all our stakeholders to make the journey more rewarding in future.

Warm regards,

Nandini Nopany
Chairperson
