COMPANY'S PERFORMANCE

During the year under review your company continued to improve upon the progress made during the previous year by selling over 19000 Tillers which helped the Company to consolidate its position as market leader in the power tiller industry. The sale of tractors also increased significantly by over 3700 nos. Both these figures are a milestone.

The turnover for the year registered an increase by 26% from Rs 274 crores in 2008-09 to Rs.344 crores while the operating profit increased to Rs. 59 crores compared to Rs.39 crores. This was mainly due to higher growth and operating efficiency. Profit after tax amounted to Rs. 42 crores, an increase of 46% over the previous year. Consequently, earnings per share increased from Rs. 50.20 to Rs. 68.69 and your company continues to remain debt free while short term borrowings were limited to only need based working capital requirements. Power Tillers and Tractors contributed 62% and 24% of the sales during the year. Export revenue from Precision Component Division declined by 58% due to the global recession in the component business.

The sale of power tillers during the year increased to 19068 units as against the previous year's sales of 16691 units, an increase of 14%. The company's tractor sales also accelerated to 3758 units as against 2327 units in the previous year. As a result of an aggressive plan to market Rice Transplanters, 858 units were sold mainly in the paddy growing belts of Punjab, Tamil Nadu and Kerala. This steadily shift towards mechanization has been due to acute shortage of labour and cost effectiveness of these machines.

The performance of the Component Division went through a difficult time due to the global economic slowdown and profits from exports declined on a standalone basis. During the second half of the year, export margins were impacted due to higher raw material prices. This apart, the strengthening of the Rupee against the Sterling and Euro compounded the problems as realizations declined. Despite these conditions, increase in production of components for captive consumption enabled this division to record a moderate increase in top line and sustain its operations.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSISIndustry structure and developments:

After witnessing a slowdown in the fiscal year ended 31st March 2009 India's economy was estimated to grow by 7.2% in 2009-10 after clocking an annual growth of over 6.8% in the preceding year. A large share of this growth is broad based with the recovery of the industrial sector which has now consolidated. The agriculture sector was an exception recording a growth of only 0.2% primarily due to widespread drought. This sector had grown by 1.6% in the previous year.

The agricultural sector which contributes over 20% of India's GDP has in the recent past been given emphasis by the government through farm mechanization to enhance food production. In addition, the shortage of labour has also encouraged farm mechanization, consequent to which the demand for tractors, power tillers and other farm equipments has grown substantially. The power tiller industry which relies substantially on government subsidy is constantly exposed to higher levels of credit, as release of the subsidy in many states takes a considerable period of time. On the fiscal front, the RBI has ensured sufficient liquidity in the market and effected various monetary rate changes during the latter part of the year in view of the double digit inflation and rising agricultural commodity prices. It is expected that the support prices for crops being enhanced by the government, would also improve the capability of the farmer to buy agricultural machinery.

OPPORTUNITIES

Agriculture which contributes a major portion of the rural sector will continue to play a leading role in the growth of the economy.

The Agriculture sector is slated to register a growth of around 4% during the year 2010-11 through schemes such as National Food Security Mission, The Rashtriya Krishi Vikas Yojana (RKVY), Macro Management Scheme and other schemes. These schemes in addition to giving a thrust for higher mechanization also encourages farmers to make use of the power tillers and small tractors for other field operations. The opportunity for Rice transplanters to be used in larger numbers is now far greater than earlier as the transplanters are able to cover a larger area within available time frame for transplanting. These initiatives are expected to help this industry post steady growth.

RISKS AND CONCERNS

The Monsoons play a significant role in agriculture and the sale of our products could get impacted by deficiency in rainfall pattern. Credit availability and quick processing of bank loans to farmers is a key issue, as many farmers still lack access to finance due to reluctance of banks to process loans especially on account of various loan waiver schemes. As the industry is highly dependent on subsidy, allocation by the government is a key driver for the power tiller sector to perform in a robust manner. The industry has experienced undue delay in release of subsidy by various state governments and this phenomenon brings about periodic financial stress. Increase in prices of commodity items like steel, non ferrous metals and rubber could have a negative bearing on the demand. These cost escalations are difficult to be fully passed on to the customer through price increases particularly in the face of competition from low cost Chinese tillers.

The exports from the Components Division are exposed to global currency fluctuations and the impact of currency movements coupled with adverse changes in raw material price could affect profitability. This sector also has to face major challenges from auto component industry in China and Thailand and there is constant pressure to maintain prices from our overseas customers.

CURRENT YEAR OUTLOOK

The Indian economy has strongly recovered and is on the path to achieve around 8% growth with the Government targeting over 4% growth for agriculture. Various measures to accelerate reforms to increase agricultural production to ensure food security will augur well for our industry and we are cautiously optimistic in the current year. Additional infrastructure is also being planned to upgrade the facilities both in Bangalore and Mysore. This will enable your company to reach the higher anticipated targets. On the organization front, the management has found it necessary to strengthen the marketing structure and will to do so through the year. Besides the above, your company continues to take measures to improve quality and productivity and to make changes in the assembly layout and improve logistics.

At the Components Division, your company is consolidating its business with the existing customers. However, there is a concern to accept further orders in the long term due to frequent changes in the projection being made by the companies to whom we are exporting.

Internal Control Systems

Your Company maintains adequate internal control system, which provides reasonable assurance that transactions in significant areas are monitored to prevent any misuse. To strengthen this area your Company continued to strengthen its IT capabilities particularly in inventory management function. The ERP system will improve integration with vendors for better flow of information. Internal Audits are conducted and critical observations are reviewed by the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis.

Industrial Relation

Industrial relations have been cordial across all the plants. During the year your company entered into a 3 year wage settlement with its Union at Bangalore through amicable process of negotiation. With a view strengthen the organization in line with the company's expansion, various initiatives for building organizational capabilities and enhancing people productivity is being carried out.
