MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

A. INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

India –Heritage in Textiles

1. Indian textiles have a legendary heritage through the ages. Some of the best attires of Greeks & Romans were draped with Indian textiles. European settlers exchanged silver & gold for Indian textiles, which became the fashion statement of the period. Calico, Pajamas, Gingham, Dungaree, Chintz & Khaki – these apparel names are Indian contributions to the English language.

2. India – Today

- 2.1 India today, is a fast emerging economic super power. With a population of a strong 300 million and the world's largest middle class population, it unleashes the latent strength of popular consumerism while reshaping both business & the way of life. With the surging trend in all sectors, International Trade Journals have rightly billed India as one of the fastest growing economies in the world.

3. Indian Textile Industry – An overview

- 3.1 The Textile & Clothing industry is equally sharing the trends in this economic uptrend. T & C sector, accounts for nearly 4% of the Gross Domestic Product, 14% of the country's industrial production and 27% of the export earnings. Being the world's largest producer of silk, India's ranking in cotton crop production is a significant 15% of the global yield. Would you ever imagine that Textiles & Clothing is next only to Agriculture in terms of market-reach? The T & C sector has been at the forefront of socio-economic development while providing employment to nearly 35 million Indians amongst which include a substantial number of women.

- 3.2 Thanks to the fast growing consumer class and increasing disposable incomes, per capita domestic consumption of textiles & apparels is expected to have a volume growth from about 20 meters to 32 meters and value growth from 25 billion US Dollars to 45 billion US dollars by the year 2010.

During the fiscal year 2008-09, only 450 million Kgs of spun yarn was exported valued at US$ 1.30 billion. Exports had started beating from June 2008, which has continued till end of the year.

- 3.3 India's cotton textile & garment industry has immense export potential. Cost competitiveness backed by international quality is driving the penetration of Indian basic yarns and grey fabrics in global commodity market, as a result of which apparels can be manufactured in relatively small batch lots. This flexibility offers larger variety of casual wear and leisure garments at cost effective levels.

- 3.4 With a projected two fold increase in the size of the global textile market in the next 4 years, the National Textile Policy has targeted India's export revenues to 50 billion US dollars by the year 2010.

- 3.5 Besides natural fibers like cotton, jute & silk, synthetic raw material products such as polyester staple fiber, polyester filament yarn, acrylic fiber and viscose fiber are produced in a mass scale. That presents the wide canvas of the Indian textile scene with wider opportunities.

The Polyester/ Viscose industry is one of the key industries in the Indian economy and India is today one of the leading countries in the world as far as trade is concerned. Though new opportunities are rapidly emerging India's future position will largely depend on how effectively the Industry and Government are able to resolve core issues and take advantage of an increasingly
