“I am confident that Zensar, with its excellent customers, committed associates and strong and stable management team will continue to deliver significant value to all its stakeholders.”

Statement from Mr. H. V. Goenka, Chairman

Chairman's Note

For several years and more significantly after the economic crisis, industry in India has been focusing on improving internal efficiencies and the need to reduce operating costs. Most organizations have put measures in place that address the key issues of optimisation of technology and infrastructure, enhanced utilisation of their workforce, wage moderation, benchmarking processes and enhancing operational efficiency. At the same time, it has been encouraging to see that companies have also not lost sight of the need for diversification into new geographies, relatively untapped verticals and deepening of engagements with existing clients.

Clearly, the resilience of the IT sector combined with robust business practices, excellence in service delivery and strong fundamentals have enabled India to garner the largest share of the global sourcing pie and maintain its position as the world's leading offshore destination. It was expected that the industry would not allow global economic declines to affect its growth story and I am glad that we have seen reasonable growth in the last fiscal with expectations of a progress to double digit growth soon.

While these are certainly encouraging trends, the IT-BPO industry needs to gear up for fresh challenges and pitfalls that are emerging on the horizon.

Concerns around increasing unemployment in global economies leading to protectionism, maintaining India's competitiveness and addressing customer issues around risk management are challenges that the industry will need to focus on.

Any changes in demand calls for fresh efforts and plans in collaboration with all the stakeholders within the sector and Zensar's charter in IT-BPO industry's next phase of growth has been clear. In the year that ended in March 2010, we have chosen to deepen customer relationships, reengineer structures to maximise value and diversify our offering and markets to become transformation partners. The results have been encouraging and Zensar has emerged as a stronger organisation ready to enter the next phase of significant growth.

I am confident that Zensar, with its excellent customers, committed associates and strong and stable management team will continue to deliver significant value to all its stakeholders in the years to come and will achieve every milestone in the journey to success.

Sincerely,

Harsh Goenka

“The strong focus we have on innovation, customer sovereignty and people orientation has translated into excellent business results.”

Statement from Dr. Ganesh Natarajan, Vice-Chairman and CEO

CEO's Note

It was at the beginning of this decade that a new entity was born in the Western Indian city of Pune. In these ten years thousands of Zensarians have ensured that we find our place in the software industry and become a star that shines bright across five global delivery centers and eighteen countries of operation.

From one downturn in 2001 to another that just ended in 2010, we have demonstrated resilience and resolve that has given us the confidence that the excellent results we have achieved in the last financial year are just the beginning of what we believe will be an ongoing journey of success.

The strong focus we have on innovation, customer sovereignty and people orientation has translated into excellent business results. We have seen a strong net income growth of Rs. 127.56 cr, a 47% y-o-y growth and revenue of Rs. 952.76 cr, a 5% growth y-o-y. This year, we are focused on developing a high growth strategy that will place us among the top contenders for large deals in IT and BPO by 2013. We are also planning for an investment of over Rs. 400 crores for significant acquisitions and there is a commitment to building domain expertise and increasing the width and depth of our offerings to align more closely to the customer's business and make us a true transformation partner to global corporations.

While our order intake from all key global markets is today stronger than ever, the growing adoption of IT and BPO in business industry and Government in our own country also opens up various opportunities for us. The opportunities in non-linear Intellectual Property based models for Retail and Healthcare, the ability to reach out to underserved segments of the manufacturing industry through hosted solutions in a SaaS model and the vistas of opportunity that the rapid advances in Cloud Computing have opened for us - all these and more will be key additions to our services portfolio in the coming year.

The strength of Zensar is the energy of our teams and the Harvard Business School case on Zensar's innovative Vision Communities will be one more recognition of this commitment. We are delighted to be chosen by SAP, Oracle and Microsoft, all global majors to be their partner in many key markets. It has taken ten years of chrysalis to build a strong and distinctive company and now we are in the process of redefining the strategic imperatives for our business in the years ahead and look to the future with great confidence.

Sincerely,

Ganesh Natarajan
